GOP May Require 2 Top Party Officials Resign

I-J Special Report
SACRAMENTO—Marin State Sen. John F. McCarthy said yesterday a meeting has been called here Jan. 26 to discuss possible "resignation" of two top Republican party officials.

He said that GOP National Committeeman Edward S. Shattuck and National Committeewoman Marjorie Benedict had been invited to attend a meeting on demands that they step out of office.

The demands are repercussions of a party meeting last weekend in San Mateo at which the necessity of the resignations was discussed informally.

McCarthy, chairman of the Republican caucus in the Senate, and Sen. Richard Dolwig, GOP legislative campaign chairman, have expressed dissatisfaction with Shattuck and Mrs. Benedict in relation to the November Republican fiasco.

Others expected to attend the meeting include Joseph C. Shell, minority leader in the Assembly; Walter Dahl, Assembly caucus chairman; George Milias, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee; John Krehbiel, vice chairman; Alphonso Bell, Los Angeles County chairman; Robert Steele, San Francisco County chairman, and Harvey Mydland, California Republican Assembly vice president.

MARIN COUNTY POPULATION SET AT 133,700

As of Jan. 1, Marin County had a population of 133,700, gain of 3,000 persons, or 2.3 per cent, over Jan. 1, 1958, according to estimates released today by the California Taxpayers Assn.

The association report said the estimated figure represents an increase of 48,081, or 56.2 per cent, over Marin's April 1, 1950, population of 85,619. On Jan. 1, 1959, the county had 126,200 residents, according to association estimates.

Turning to the statewide picture, the taxpayers association estimated California's population at 14,784,000 as of Jan. 1. The report said the state population should hit 15 million about July 4 "if the 1958 rate of growth of a little under 1,200 per day continues."

Demos Get Most Chairmanships

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Democrats, who won 59 per cent of the seats in the Assembly in the November election, today collected the spoils of their victory by taking 75 per cent of the lower house committee chairmanships.

The Democrats, who hold a 47-33 edge in the Assembly, claimed guidance of 21 of the 28 committees, including all the most important ones. Marin Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister, oldest Republican in the lower house in years of service, did not get a chairmanship appointment.

Developers Hope To Start Soon On 2 Shop Centers

Two North Marin developers today announced plans for spring or summer starts on long-discussed shopping districts.

Gerald Hoytt said he hopes to start construction of shopping centers on the 22-acre Patterson ranch site on West Grant avenue in Novato and on 34 acres in Marinwood "as soon as weather permits."

Each center, he said, is planned to have initially a junior department store, a supermarket, drug and hardware stores,

Cabbie Loses Suit Charging Cruelty In Jail

A San Francisco taxi driver lost his fight yesterday to collect $100,000 damages from Marin County for injuries he claimed he suffered while being held in county jail in 1956.

George Diez had sued the county; Sheriff David Menary; Dr. Rafael Dufficy, county physician, and San Rafael General Hospital, charging them with negligence. But Judge Jordan L. Martinelli of Marin Superior Court ruled yesterday that Diez should receive no damages.

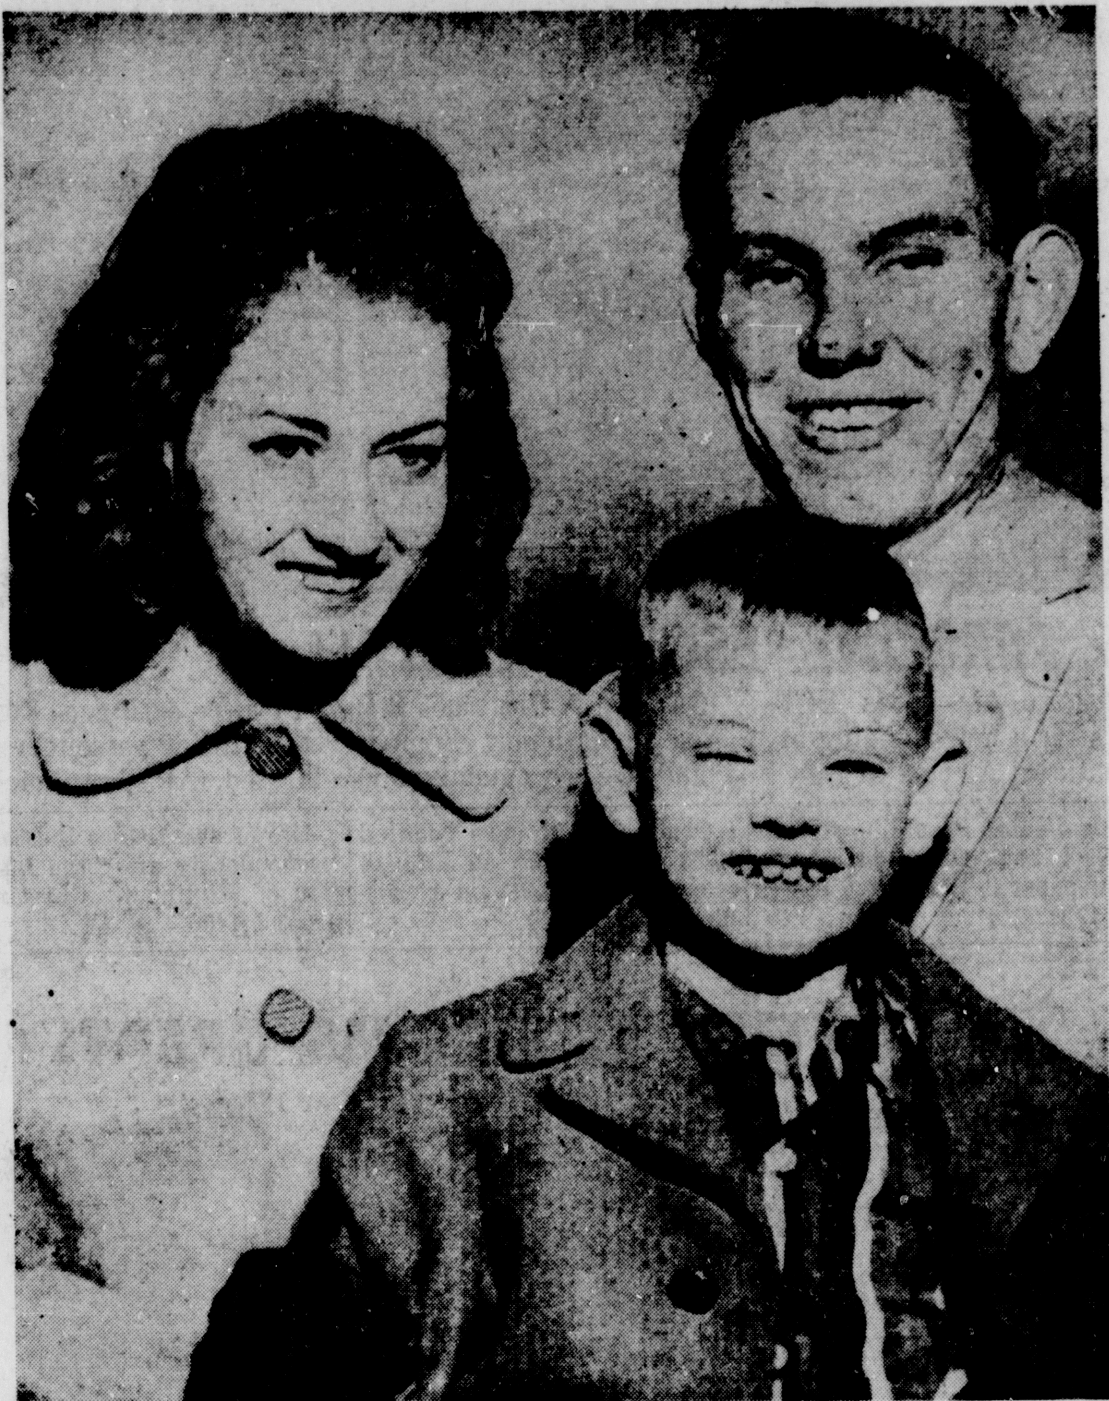

Diez contended he was arrested after being injured in an accident on March 7, 1956. He said he complained of injuries and was taken from jail to San Rafael General Hospital. Diez said the hospital officials and the county physician examined him, found nothing serious, and sent him back to jail.

But he later suffered a lung puncture from fractured ribs, said Diez.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan argued that the county and the sheriff were not responsible for the man's injuries and that normal precautions had been taken for Diez's well being while in custody of the county.

John Moskowitz of Santa Rosa defended San Rafael General Hospital. William Hayes of Oakland represented Dr. Dufficy.

Diez was hurt when his car went out of control just south of Richardson Bay Bridge. He was charged with drunken driving and drunkenness. The drunken driving charge was dismissed for lack of evidence, but he was convicted for being drunk in and about an auto.

WILL HE SEE AGAIN? — Hugh Thornhill was seven years old today and the gift he wants most is a chance to see again. He is shown with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Thornhill of Natchez, Miss., after their arrival in San Francisco yesterday. The boy, who is suffering from glaucoma, will undergo an examination by Belvedere eye specialist William Ferguson which may result in an operation to save the sight of his one remaining eye. The disease already has cost Hugh his right eye.

Marin Eye Specialist To Try To Save Boy From Blindness

A Belvedere eye specialist sought today to give Hugh Thornhill of Natchez, Miss., the finest present for his seventh birthday—sight.

Hugh, who arrived by plane in San Francisco last night, spent the day with Dr. William J. Ferguson of 284 San Rafael avenue, Belvedere, undergoing tests of his eyes. A secretary at Dr. Ferguson's San Francisco office said this noon it had not been determined when—or if—Dr. Ferguson would perform the delicate surgery that might spare the Mississippi boy from blindness.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thornhill, has been to other doctors. He suffers from glaucoma, a disease that destroys sight through pressure inside the eyeball. He has undergone 10 operations since he was five months old.

Four years ago, Hugh lost the sight of his right eye. When hopes for his left eye grew dim, a Utah man named C. Shreve wrote Natchez Mayor Troy Watkins that Dr. Ferguson had saved the sight of his grandchild, who suffered from the same disease.

(Dr. Ferguson's secretary said the doctor did not know C. Shreve, nor to what patient he referred.)

The Thornhills decided to place their final hopes in the hands of the Belvedere specialist. Churches, the police department and various organizations in Natchez organized a quick fund drive to finance the trip to San Francisco.

Before starting today's tests, Dr. Ferguson warned the parents, who accompanied their boy, that the chances of success "are very slim."

"Some late cases are next to impossible," he said.

Crime In '58 Up 35 Pct., Kelly Says

Major crimes in San Rafael during 1958 rose by 35 per cent over 1957, according to an annual report just released by Police Chief Frank Kelly.

The bulk of the crime increase came in the form of petty theft, burglary and auto theft. Criminal homicide showed no increase. In 1957, one person died from negligent manslaughter. In 1958, Edwin Norbert Hart, 55, operator of Ed's Liquor Store on Fourth street, died from blows on the head in broad daylight on May 9. The murder is still unsolved.

Rape dropped from one in 1957 to none last year. One robbery was reported in 1957, whereas three were reported in 1958. Aggravated assault remained the same, at five in each year.

Larceny (thefts) rose from 286 in 1957 to 357 in 1958. Auto theft totalled 45 for last year, and increase of 14 over 1957.

Sex offenses dropped from 23 in 1957 to 21 last year. Police were notified of one case of prostitution when a carnival worker complained last Aug. 31 that he had been clipped of some money by a woman in a downtown hotel. Police arrested the woman, who turned out to be an escapee from Napa State Hospital.

The grand total of crimes, including traffic violations, came to 28,857 as compared to 20,882 in 1957. Total of crimes in 1955 was 9,993, and 17,155 in 1956.

San Quentin Starts New Counseling Aid

Nine San Quentin prisoners met with their wives in a living room atmosphere yesterday afternoon as part of an experiment in "couples' group counseling."

The couples were allowed to embrace at the beginning and end of the 90-minute session, during which they discussed problems which will arise when the husbands return home.

Visiting wives are separated from their husbands by wide tables and are under the constant surveillance of prison guards.

Twelve inmates were selected for the test, but only nine wives showed up. The inmates were chosen on the basis of their prison behavior and the frequency of their wives' visits.

Associate Warden Benjamin F. Baer and Walter D. Achuff sat in on the meeting. Achuff commented it was "exceptionally well run," with the couples seated in a circle and talking about how the men would best reassume their roles as fathers, employees and neighbors.

The group will meet again in two weeks. If the family consultation proves successful after a three-month trial, it may be incorporated as an integral part of the prison's rehabilitation program.

Similar experimental programs have been established at Soledad State Prison and at Chino, the state's minimum security prison. They, like the one at San Quentin, are sponsored by the Rosenberg Foundation.

Bill Would Raise Minimum Wage

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to set the minimum wage in California at $1.25 an hour for men, women and minors was introduced in the state Legislature today.

Assemblyman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco) introduced the measure. It would affect all workers in any occupation, trade or industry.

State law presently requires a minimum wage of $1 an hour, but exempts agricultural and domestic workers and some other categories. Burton's bill would lift these exemptions.

Mikoyan Reopens Russia's Demands For Summit Meet

'It Can't Be Sidestepped Very Long'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Deputy Soviet Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan renewed demands today for a summit meeting to ease East-West tensions.

The Kremlin's No. 2 man said the Soviet government still feels the leaders of the four big powers must meet before real progress can be made.

He declined to suggest when such a meeting would be held, but said it "cannot be sidestepped much longer."

Mikoyan made his remarks at a news conference.

Immediately upon arriving in a 16-car cavalcade, the Russian first deputy premier went to the 38th floor of the Secretariat Building for a private talk with Dag Hammarskjold, secretary-general of the U.N. He was accompanied by Arkady A. Sobolev, Soviet ambassador to the U.N., and an interpreter.

Strict security precautions were in evidence. There were 85 of the U.N.'s own uniformed guards on duty, and across the street from the Secretariat entrance a heavy cordon of city police kept spectators back.

Following his U.N. visit, Mikoyan's calendar for the day included a hotel luncheon with Mikhail A. Menshikov, Russian ambassador to the United States; a visit to the Council on Foreign Relations and a private dinner sponsored by the Committee for Economic Development. Tonight he goes by train to Washington.

Mikoyan urged a "Da, da, da" (Yes, yes, yes) approach to Soviet-American relations in place of "Nyet, nyet, nyet" (No, no, no) in an address last night before 1,100 business and industrial leaders in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The deputy premier said his country poses neither an economic nor military menace to the United States.

At the dinner sponsored by the Economic Club of New York, Mikoyan hammered at the same themes—peace and coexistence and more trade—he has used in similar talks with businessmen and officials in cities across the nation during the past week.

"I can confirm that the American people, both the ordinary people and the business people want peace," Mikoyan said.

"Now the talk is more of the economic menace of the Soviet Union—that it is an even greater threat. That talk is equally groundless. It would be best to stop frightening yourselves," he added.

GEN. GEORGE C. MARSHALL Suffers mild stroke

Gen. Marshall Hospitalized With Stroke

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, 78, suffered a mild stroke at his home here early today and was taken to Womack General Hospital at nearby Ft. Bragg.

Marshall has been in poor health and confined to his bed for several months.

Col. G. M. Powell, chief surgeon at the hospital, said the general's condition was satisfactory, that he was resting comfortably, and there had been no complications from the stroke.

FEELS ILL

Marshall, army chief of staff during World War II and later secretary of state, felt ill upon awakening at his winter home this morning.

Powell was summoned and decided to remove the veteran soldier-statesman to the Army hospital for observation.

Shortly afterward, the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center at Washington and Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, President Eisenhower's personal physician, were notified.

OWN COTTAGE

General and Mrs. Marshall returned to this resort community last fall where they have owned a cottage since 1941. They also have a home at Leesburg, Va.

Marshall, who also served as secretary of defense in the Truman administration, celebrated his 78th birthday Dec. 31. He received several anniversary visitors but remained in bed. A band from Ft. Bragg serenaded him.

Except for a term as president of the American Red Cross, Marshall has lived in virtual seclusion since September, 1951. That was the date of his resignation after a year as secretary of defense.

No bids were submitted to Lagunitas School district for its seven-acre Woodacre property, although one member of the audience at last night's bid opening thought the sale was to be conducted as an auction and offered $1,000.

The five school district trustees will hold a special meeting (not yet scheduled) to decide what their next move should be, said Mrs. Winifred S. Frederick, clerk.

Minimum acceptable bid would be $18,500, she said, which would give the district a 30-cent profit over what the property cost. The Woodacre property was once intended as a second school site.

The unidentified bidder last night was told by the board that bids must be submitted in writing. He had none to submit.

In other business, the board received cost estimates from Milton G. Leong, Berkeley structural engineer, to install foundations for two one-room steel buildings intended for temporary use as classrooms.

Leong said concrete slab foundations installed by contract would be as high as $1,500; concrete block piers using part volunteer labor for installation, $800, and redwood block piers using part volunteer labor, $900.

The board decided to investigate the possibility of a wood pier foundation, said Mrs. Frederick, with the hope that materials will be donated.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye, scheduled to present an estimate of expenditures during the 1959-60 school year, did not have his figures quite compiled, he told the board.

The board voted a letter of thanks to the San Geronimo Valley Lions Club, which has put up a basketball backboard at Lagunitas School and is to finish a second this week. The board also voted to let the Lions Club use the school building for meetings until the Woodacre Improvement Club lodge is rebuilt.

Young Skater On Street Hit By Pickup

Janice Marion Kenney, 5, was seriously injured late yesterday when she roller-skated into the street and was struck by a pickup truck near her home at 90 Alameda de la Loma in the Loma Verde subdivision at Ignacio.

Her condition today at Marin General Hospital was listed as "fair." She suffered leg fracture and possible skull fracture, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Driver of the truck, William J. Futrell, 55, of Sonoma, a carpenter for Valle Development Co. in San Rafael, was eastbound on Alameda de la Loma near Calle Arboleda.

The child darted out into the street suddenly, said CHP officer R. P. Anderson. The pickup truck skidded into her. No citation was issued.

San Rafael Planners OK Subdivision Map

Tentative map of a million-dollar subdivision of half-acre site homes in the Dominican area of San Rafael won the San Rafael Planning Commission's approval Tuesday night.

Mrs. Ellen Ross, who owns 32 acres on Gold Hill Grade at the end of Locust avenue, wants to put in 20 lots for luxury homes and follow that with other units. She plans to put in Japanese cherry blossoms along the streets. It will be called St. Francis Estates.

The planners approved the tentative map on condition the developer puts in a 50-foot right of way on Gold Hill Grade within the subdivision, have 36-foot paving on the subdivision roads, and a minimum 22-foot road Locust avenue approach to the subdivision.

The planning commission also granted a use permit for

Holiday Hiring Boosted Jobs In December

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Holiday hiring kept California's job situation on the upswing through December, two state agencies reported today.

Employment rose to a record for the month of 5,713,000, some 70,000 higher than December 1957, the State Department of Industrial Relations said.

Unemployment, however, remained substantially above pre-recession levels because of the growth of the labor force, the Department of Employment announced.

Some 317,000 persons were out of work in December, about 5,000 more than a year earlier and 140,000 more than December of 1956.

The total labor force was 6,030,000.

Continued recovery in metal-working helped the usual Christmas hiring.

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Raymond D. Williamson has lost a state job because his wife's uncle is a judge.

Williamson was a state inheritance tax appraiser in San Francisco for 10 years. His uncle-in-law is Probate Judge Timothy I. Fitzpatrick in the same city.

Law prohibits probate judges from assigning appraisal work to relatives.

Controller Alan Cranston said yesterday it was unfortunate, but he had to fire Williamson.

Pickpocket Gives Another 'Blessing'

A young woman with deft fingers, who "blessed" an elderly man and took $40 from him Monday, used the same touch on a San Rafael doctor the next day, San Rafael police learned today.

The second victim, Dr. Rolla B. Hess, of 120 H street, said he read about the other victim in the Independent-Journal and reported his case to police.

Dr. Hess was working in his front yard shortly before noon Tuesday when a man and a woman drove up and asked directions to the library. The woman, about 30, with dark hair and blisters on her face, then "blessed him" and patted him on the shoulders and waist and told him he would have no more pain. Later, he found about $20 missing from his wallet.

In 1957 the Turkish Navy received 14 destroyers and minesweepers from the British and Canadian Navies.

Turncoat Glad To Get Back To 'Good Living'

RICHARD C. CORDEN
Has faith in socialism

HONOLULU (UP) — Korean War turncoat Richard C. Corden told reporters yesterday he is glad to be returning to "the high standard of living of but that he stills feels socialism "is the most advanced system in the world."

The dapper-looking Corden, formerly of Providence, R.I., is coming home after almost nine years in China. He has been identified by other prisoners as the ringleader and spokesman for the 23 Americans who chose to go to Red China after they were captured.

He had his first view of American soil in nine years yesterday when the liner President Cleveland arrived here from Hong Kong. He was interviewed on deck after he told reporters that he had been told by the American consul in Hong Kong not to disembark until the liner reached San Francisco next Monday.

The mustachioed Corden, 31, answered questions dispassionately, although they dealt with such subjects as treason and charges of informing.

He called socialism "the most advanced system in the world," but added that he considered it only a step towards communism. He did admit Chinese methods "may be a little extreme."

He answered charges of informing on his fellow prisoners by stating that his duties as "squad leader, monitor and club officer" naturally included the comments and opinions of his fellow prisoners to Chinese officials.

DETROIT (AP) — The Irish vote is heavy in suburban Roseville.

With this in mind, Roseville's school board is going to change the date of an important school tax election.

"We can't afford," said board attorney Raymond Cashen, "to get the Irish mad at us."

Cashen, himself an Irishman, said the board inadvertently set the election for March 17, St. Patrick's Day, requiring the closing of all bars under election law.

Pair Re-Elected Bank Directors

Two San Rafael residents, Carl K. Schieck and Arthur Fiedler, were re-elected directors of the Pacific National Bank of San Francisco this week at the annual stockholders' meeting.

Schieck also was elected a vice president.

Missing from the list of directors was the name of Henry E. North, who is retiring Jan. 31 as vice president of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. North resigned by letter.

The board declared two 50-cent dividends, payable Jan. 30 and April 30.

Female Sex Hormones Aid Heart Victims

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Male coronary thrombosis victims can reduce their chances of suffering a second heart attack by taking a small daily dosage of female sex hormones, according to a research team from the University of Southern California.

The female sex hormone, estrogen, reduces the level of the fat content of the blood to normal within 90 days when taken by men with a high cholesterol level who have already suffered one heart attack, Dr. Jessie Marmorston, clinical professor of medicine, reported.

Marmorston, who made the disclosure before the Los Angeles Heart Assn. yesterday, announced that the effective dosage of the female hormone taken by men did not present a possible hazard of "feminizing" the male patients.

Many doctors regard cholesterol, a fatty substance, as a principal cause of a condition which blocks blood supply to the heart, causing heart attacks.

MOTHER'S BODY FOUND

'She Held Me Over Water, Dropped Me In,' Says Girl, 9

SEATTLE (UP) — A suicide note indicated today that a 9-year-old girl escaped death at her mother's hands only because she was able to swim "a little."

Pamela Gable's screams attracted Redondo Beach residents Tuesday night and the girl was spotted clinging to a piling in Puget Sound at the Redondo Marina dock.

Juleon Lewis, 24, leaped in to the water and held the girl afloat until the pair was picked up in a rowboat.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Delona Gable, 32, Redondo Beach, drowned and her body was found washed upon the shore about a half-mile from the dock.

A note in Mrs. Gable's car, parked near the seawall, read, in part:

Satirist To Marry

PASADENA (AP) — Satirist Stan Freberg, best known for his many humorous recordings, and Donna Jean Anderson will be married Saturday by his father. He is 32, Miss Anderson 28.

Rev. Victor Freberg will perform the ceremony in the Chapel of Roses.

"This is the best for both of us . . . life hasn't been worth living . . . forgive me." It was signed "Delona."

Yesterday the girl was questioned by Sheriff's Supervising Sgt. Winthrop Eddy.

"Mama was looking for a package and she picked me up and held me over the water and dropped me in and then she jumped in," Pamela said.

The father, M. L. Gablen, refused to believe it was not an accident. He said his wife could not swim and was sure she sacrificed her life for the girl. Pamela could swim a little, Gable said.

Sheriff Tim McCullough said the note and Pamela's statement showed the drowning was not an accident. The beach is about 20 miles south of here.

CAMPAIGN'S ON AT SAN RAFAEL HIGH

The excitement of a political campaign pervades the campus at San Rafael High School as students prepare for their semi-annual election of student officers. Displaying campaign posters in photo are rivals for student presidency, Fred Costello and

Craig Beckstead (easily identified by their signs). Vicky Olson (foreground) and Donna Dietrich (rear) seem to find both boys' campaign pitches attractive. Voting will be on Jan. 22 and 23. (Independent-Journal photo)

New Seminary Chief Tells Of World Trip

"I went around the world looking for answers, and everywhere I found other peoples' answers asking me questions," president-elect Theodore A. Gill told an audience of future ministers at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo yesterday.

Dr. Gill and his family only last week moved to the campus of the Presbyterian seminary, where he succeeds Dr. Jesse Hays Baird, as president.

TELLS OF HUNGARY

Gill told seminarians briefly of highlights of his world trip made a little over a year ago. He spotlighted Hungary, where a police state operates so ruthlessly to break up the normal pattern of life that even children must carry identification cards at all times. "To keep the population upset, shaken and confused—this is the purpose," Gill declared.

Dr. Gill recalled a week-long rally of all the Protestant churches of Germany at Kirchentag where evangelism was witnessed in its most vibrant form.

'THE REAL THING'

"Here we saw the real thing—almost a million people milling and thrilling, and everything geared to the true being of the church," he said. "Huge Bible study classes, seminars on law, science, education, family, politics, music, theater—the best of everything. No in-and-out, off-and-on evangelism done by a team hired to come in."

At Beirut, Lebanon, Gill saw an Arabian theater audience erupt into spitting violence at the viewing of a newsreel showing racial incidents in Clinton, Ky. The audience finally quieted when a voice at the back of the theater called, "Don't forget, we are looking at an American film telling us of an American problem."

Gill also told of a stop at Medan, Indonesia, where almost the whole populace work the full day's stint to hurry home, bathe and dress and rush to school for five hours of learning and teaching, not stopping to eat until after 10 at night—so dedicated and eager are these people for education.

The United States, said Dr. Gill, should beware of aimless drifting, of the drowning of intellectual curiosity, and of "soggy come-and-go evangelism which can be a shackle on Christian thinkers."

Superintendent Willis reported enrollment in the district has reached 1,571, up about 100 since the start of school last fall.

The board set for Feb. 9 an executive session on personnel evaluation, which will have a bearing on awarding of teacher contracts for next term.

All trustees were present.

Assemblyman Samuel R. Geddes (D-Napa) said he had requested the bills to be drawn by the legislative counsel and would introduce them when they were completed—probably in about three weeks.

Bills permitting use of evidence obtained by the CHP through use of radar and to permit unmarked CHP vehicles were refused at the 1957 Legislature. However, a number of organizations have recommended adoption of these measures since, and a survey of motorists has shown them in favor of permitting use of radar.

Commissioner David Ross was appointed representative to the Tiburon Land Conservation Committee.

NEW HOUSING BOSS—

Norman P. Mason, appointed by President Eisenhower as new head of the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, steps into a first-class controversy on assumption of his job. The controversy: the extent government housing programs will reach under Eisenhower's efforts to hold down spending. Democratic critics want to spend more than the Administration recommends. Suspect In Assault Try Denies Guilt

A 31-year-old Marin City contractor, accused of trying to assault a 14-year-old girl in Belvedere last September, took the witness stand in his own defense today to deny the charge.

Vertis D. Spigner told a jury before Judge N. Charles Brubaker in Marin Superior Court that he took a razor away from the girl because she threatened to commit suicide.

Spigner was working at the home where the girl was baby-sitting on Sept. 8. He is charged with contributing to the girl's delinquency as well as attempted assault. Asst. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garey put the girl on the stand yesterday.

The blonde, now 15, testified that Spigner entered the home to make a phone call about 9 a.m. He drank a cup of coffee which she offered him.

Then he returned about 11 a.m. with a bottle of vodka and orange juice and continued to drink into the afternoon, the girl testified. She said she went into the bathroom to comb her hair, and he followed and took a razor from the shelf. She said she took it away from him, but he grabbed it again, then pushed her into the bedroom and tried to attack her.

Deputy Sheriff Richard Argento found Spigner with a razor in his hand. Argento said he drew his revolver to force Spigner to throw the razor aside. In Spigner's truck was a briefcase containing a .32 caliber pistol.

Trial is expected to wind up tomorrow.

Marin Medics Receive New Filter Paper Kits

Marin doctors have received their initial packs of the new filter paper kits to be used for the isolation of beta hemolytic streptococci from nasopharyngeal swabbings, the Marin County Health Department reported today.

The new kit, assembled by volunteers of the Marin Heart Assn., consists of a sterilized swab, glassine covered filter paper strips, along with instruction sheet and laboratory report form.

'HAB YOU A CODE?'

Simple Ailment Calls For Complicated Cure

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At least 100 million wretched citizens will lift their faces from handkerchiefs this winter and announce glumly:

"I seeb to be gatching a code."

Most of them will wonder, amidst their sniffing and sneezing misery why medical science doesn't isolate the cold virus and develop a vaccine against it.

The answer to this question is both complicated and discouraging, according to scientists at the National Institute of Health who have spent years in research on mankind's most prevalent illness.

They have learned that the "simple" ailment which most people call a common cold is actually a whole spectrum of respiratory infections. The symptoms of these infections are remarkably similar, but they are caused by at least 50 different viruses.

Vaccines already have been developed, and are being used by the armed forces which are known to cause frequent epidemics among military recruits. A researcher at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md., thinks he has identified a virus which causes about 30 per cent of the civilian colds.

But other scientists are skeptical. They believe that no one virus is responsible for more than 5 or 10 per cent of the total number of infections.

This means that any "cold vaccine," to be reasonably effective, will have to provide protection against dozens or even scores of different viruses. Such a vaccine will be enormously difficult to produce, and probably quite expensive. It may not be practical at all.

A "cure" for colds is even more elusive than a vaccine.

Americans spend hundreds of millions of dollars each winter on cold remedies. They dose themselves with pills, sprays, cough syrups, lozenges, nose drops, inhalers, steam kettles, ointments, mustard plasters and straight bourbon whiskey. Sometimes they badger their doctors into giving them injections of antibiotic drugs.

None of these things will speed recovery from a cold, said a spokesman for the National Institute of Allergies and Infectious Diseases (the branch of the National Institute of Health that deals with respiratory illnesses.)

"The best thing to do when you feel a 'cold' coming on is to go to bed for a day or two," he said. "This rests your body and gives it an optimum chance to mobilize its own defenses against the infection. It also lessens your opportunities to infect others, or to pick up secondary bacterial infections from others."

"Take a couple of aspirins, if you wish, to relieve the discomfort. If you want to treat the specific symptoms of your ailment with nose drops or gargles or cough syrups, ask your doctor to recommend something. But don't expect any of these things to make you well. The most they can do is provide temporary relief of local discomforts."

What can you do to avoid catching cold in the first place?

The most important thing is to stay away from people who have colds. This is often not feasible. But you should do your best to keep a few feet of clean air between yourself and any person who is in the sneezy, drippy stage. That's when colds are most contagious.

Taking care of your general health — through proper diet, adequate sleep, good personal hygiene, etc. — will help to build up your resistance to colds. Some people, however, seem to have a natural susceptibility to respiratory infections no matter how healthy they may be otherwise. The doctors don't know why.

Researchers are also more or less in the dark about the precise role of "thermal factors" in respiratory infections. Some people seem to catch cold when they are chilled, others when they get overheated. Some are rendered easy marks by wet feet, others by sitting in drafts.

About all that can be said with certainty is that none of these things "cause" a cold. They simply lower the body's resistance to invasion by viruses. And individuals vary greatly in how they are affected by heat, cold and dampness.

"You just have to know yourself, and use a little common sense," said the NIH spokesman.

"If sitting in a draft is your nemesis, never mind why it doesn't bother the guy at the next desk. Just get out of the draft."

Rangers Find Two Bodies In Downed Plane

VISALIA (UPI) — Rangers return today to Panther Peak east of here to recover the body of one of two men who died in the crash of a twin-engine cargo plane early Tuesday.

The wreckage was found on the Sequoia National Park peak at an elevation of 9,000 feet northeast of Giant Forest Village yesterday. The wreckage was scattered over a wide area with only 15 or 20 feet of tail section intact.

Asst. Chief Park Ranger Frank Hirst and two companions returned to the village late last night with the body of Forest Kimball, 32, of Alhambra. The body of the other victim, Claude Monahan, 34, of Sun Valley, is scattered in the wreckage.

Hirst and his party reached the scene after a Civil Air Patrol pilot spotted the wreckage about 200 feet below the top of the peak.

The C46 had been leased to Cal Air Freight by Slick Airways, Inc., of Burbank. Monahan was vice president of Cal Air, while Kimball was the firm's chief pilot.

Their plane vanished after leaving Burbank to pick up a load of cargo in Seattle.

Belvedere Groups Study Park Plans

The Belvedere Recreation Commission heard a city planning commission report on plans for future development of the community park, last night and decided to re-emphasize the importance of the area as a recreational facility.

Planning Commission Chairman George Goddard presented the incomplete plans, which include expansion of city offices, firehouse facilities and recreational areas.

Commissioners adopted a resolution eliminating barbecue pits from the parks master plan, "because they are a hazard," chairman E. Allan Stein-au Jr. said. This action is subject to city council approval.

Commissioner David Ross was appointed representative to the Tiburon Land Conservation Committee.

Dixie District To Ask State Loan For School

Dixie School District trustees last night authorized Supt. Dennis B. Willis to apply for a $282,495 state loan to build Dixie Intermediate School in Terra Linda.

The school is planned for completion sometime during the 1959-60 school year.

The trustees authorized adding two more student teachers from San Francisco State College with start of the second semester. Three students from the college have been training in the Dixie district this semester. The number will be increased to five.

Hiring of two additional regular teachers also was authorized.

Mrs. Evelyn Castleman was hired to teach English and spelling in seventh and eighth grades at Silveira School in Marinwood. A part-time art teacher will be hired, reported Joseph B. Goff, administrative assistant to the superintendent.

Mrs. Katherine Strauss, who taught art and some other subjects in the two grades, resigned.

Superintendent Willis reported enrollment in the district has reached 1,571, up about 100 since the start of school last fall.

The board set for Feb. 9 an executive session on personnel evaluation, which will have a bearing on awarding of teacher contracts for next term.

All trustees were present.

Radar Requested For Road Patrol

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A bill to permit use of radar by the California Highway Patrol, and to take the white doors off CHP squad cars, went into the drafting stage today.

Assemblyman Samuel R. Geddes (D-Napa) said he had requested the bills to be drawn by the legislative counsel and would introduce them when they were completed—probably in about three weeks.

Bills permitting use of evidence obtained by the CHP through use of radar and to permit unmarked CHP vehicles were refused at the 1957 Legislature. Governor Grants Clemency To Passion-Slayer Crooker

SACRAMENTO (UP) — Convicted Los Angeles passion killer John Russell Crooker, 34, today began serving a life imprisonment following his successful appeal to escape the gas chamber.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown commuted Crooker's sentence yesterday and said that although "the record clearly shows . . . that Crooker is guilty of murder in the first degree, his crime was caused by passion and emotional factors, and was not committed for gain."

Crooker was slated to die tomorrow in the San Quentin gas chamber for the fatal stabbing and strangling of Norma McCauley, a Bel-Air matron, on Dec. 9, 1955.

Crooker admittedly had been carrying on an affair with Mrs. McCauley and became enraged and killed her when she decided to end their relationship.

"His psychiatric reports," Brown said, "reflect mental illness which undoubtedly contributed to his emotional blow-up."

San Andreas Gets Quake Pulse Check

WASHINGTON (UP) — Earthquake experts again are checking the blood pressure of California's San Andreas fault.

They know something is going to snap. They don't know when—or whether the results will be as calamitous as they were in 1906 when a San Andreas quake destroyed San Francisco.

It could happen tomorrow, or five, or 25 years, from now. The San Andreas fault, a rift in the earth's crust running northwestward half the length of California from the Mexican border into the Pacific, has been spawning earthquakes for uncounted thousands of years.

DIFFERENT DIRECTIONS

Vast blocks of the crust are crawling in different directions on either side of the fault. Theories differ as to why this happens. But the experts agree that these slow drifting movements, averaging about two inches a year now, create strains that kick off quakes.

Measurement of these movements provides diagnostic if not prognostic clues. With them, scientists can tell when the "blood pressure" is building up dangerously even if they cannot forecast when the stroke will come.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey has been taking blood pressure readings along the San Andreas fault for half a century. In recent decades it has been systematically checking and rechecking specific areas to measure the rate of crustal movements on either side of the fault.

STUDY UNDER WAY

A party of 17 men under Lt. Jack E. Guth is now re-examining sections of the fault, last surveyed in 1938 and 1949, south of Maricopa and north of Taft. A similar survey will be conducted next year in the vicinity of Petaluma and at Monterey Bay in 1961.

The earth's rocky crust has a certain amount of elasticity. But it can't be stretched indefinitely. The time must come when there occurs what the scientists call "an elastic rebound." When that happens, rock formations pulled too far in one direction snap back in the other.

An elastic rebound is an earthquake. It is what happened to San Francisco on April 18-19, 1906, when 452 persons were killed and 350 million dollars worth of property was destroyed.

How to forecast just when a rebound will occur in any given area has not yet been figured out. But it can be determined when one is building up.

Housing Bill To Relax FHA Requirements

WASHINGTON (UP) — A multi-billion-dollar housing bill, to relax FHA home mortgage requirements and provide a three-year one-and-one-half-billion-dollar city slum elimination program, was introduced in the House today under Democratic sponsorship.

It was a redraft of the measure opposed by President Eisenhower last year and killed in the House in the closing days of the last session.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Albert Rains (D-Ala.), chairman of the House Banking subcommittee on housing. Rains said last November's Democratic election gains were a mandate for comprehensive housing legislation.

The Rains bill, in addition to an expanded slum elimination and urban renewal program, would authorize spending an additional 500 million dollars for college housing, 200 million dollars for housing for the elderly, 500 million dollars to support FHA and GI lower priced housing, and 75 million dollars to support cooperative housing.

Swim Club Action Gets New Delay

The Mill Valley Planning Commission again postponed action Tuesday night on an application by developer Ray Stern for permission to build an elaborate swimming club on Garden Hill.

Commissioners instructed planning technician Wesley Wilkes to determine the accurate definition of "private park" as used in the city's zoning ordinance.

City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson had previously offered an opinion that the commission could not legally grant a use permit for the proposed enterprise in a residential zone.

Chairman R. Lannert Iglehart pointed out that such a project as Stern's could be allowed within a residential zone only if the definition of "private park" would include it.

The balance of a long meeting was concerned with discussions of requests for variances and plan approvals.

Rifleman Shoots, Kills Cow On Ranch

Someone with a rifle shot and killed a cow on the Silveira Ranch north of San Rafael, owner Joseph P. Silveira reported to Sheriff Louis P. Montanos yesterday.

Silveira said the cow, worth about $225, was found dead with a bullet wound in the stomach. Sheriff's Deputy John Harris said the cow had been taken to a tallow company in Petaluma, and the bullet was not retrieved.

Two Crashes Leave Five Autoists Hurt

A Sausalito mother and her two children suffered minor injuries at 9:25 p.m. yesterday as she started to make a left turn from Bridgeway to Gate 5 road at Marinship, then changed her mind and was struck by another car, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Mrs. Marion M. Tellis, 35, of Waldo Point was cited by the CHP for being on the wrong side of the road. She and her two sons, Chris, 8, and Gregory, 10, were taken by Sausalito Ambulance to Marin General Hospital. All were released after treatment for cuts, bruises and abrasions.

Driver of the other car was Raymond G. Hergen, 31, auto mechanic of 146 Villa avenue, San Rafael.

Yesterday at 8:17 a.m. two Mill Valley residents were injured in a Golden Gate bridge automobile accident.

Mrs. Susie N. Olson of 828 Marin drive, Mill Valley, was bumped on her head, and John V. Beedle, 34, of 825 Marin drive complained of severe pains in both ankles after the small German-made car in which they were passengers was struck from the rear by the car of Richard Bruce Carey, 37, of 212 Emerystone Terrace, Marinwood, reported the Highway Patrol.

Carey was cited for speeding. Mrs. Olson's husband, Joseph, 37, was driving the car which was struck.

Mosk To Defend Burkett In Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Attorney Gen. Stanley J. Mosk said today his office will represent outgoing State Bank Supt. William A. Burkett in a $500,000 libel and slander suit against him.

Mosk said he had a legal duty to defend Burkett. However, the attorney general said, "We are not at this time passing on the propriety or the wisdom of his conduct."

Burkett was sued by S. M. Saroyan, San Francisco attorney. Saroyan said Burkett alleged that Saroyan was negligent and unethical in handling 15 million dollars worth of Japanese bonds seized in 1941 after Pearl Harbor.

Burkett recently disagreed with Saroyan's judgment that the bonds were worthless.

A Republican, Burkett will leave his present job Feb. 1.

He did not name the two other new appointees, however.

Watson, as chairman of the agriculture board, automatically becomes a member of the board of regents of the University of California, from which he graduated in 1914.

Cuban Sees 71 Executed: 'I Have A Pain In My Soul'

(Luis De Cabo Garcia, 25, a bus company mechanic in Santiago, Cuba, Monday witnessed the mass execution of 71 "war criminals" by Fidel Castro men. His account, obtained by UPI correspondent Charles Schuman, follows.)

By LUIS DE CABO GARCIA

SANTIAGO DE CUBA (UPI)—The shots from the firing squad rang out all morning and I heard an officer say, "Let's get this over with quick; I have a pain in my soul."

I felt the same way. I knew these men were murderers and deserved to be shot, but I couldn't help identifying myself with them every time the volley sounded.

It began for me early Monday morning. Army headquarters telephoned to send a bus to La Carcel de Boniato Prison. I went myself.

At La Carcel, 12 of the convicted ones, their hands tied in front of them, were waiting. Six rebel guards were with them.

They climbed into the bus, and I was told to go to the city jail where I picked up 11 more prisoners. Then one guard told me to drive to El Campo de Tiro, a firing range near San Juan Hill.

Dawn was beginning to break as we arrived. A volley of shots broke out, and my passengers, who had been chatting en route, suddenly became silent.

They were ordered to debark and they got off, awkwardly. They broke up into little groups of three, four and five.

Later, I learned that shootings had begun at 4 a.m. When I got there it was about 5:30 and one of the July 26th officers told me 22 had already been shot.

I looked at the clusters of prisoners. Some were crying; some chatting; some nervously shifting their feet; some silent.

An army officer beckoned, and two prisoners advanced to a large trench at the end of the range. They stood in front of the trench as the firing squad got ready. An officer gave the word and six shots rang out.

The two bodies fell back into the grave.

I didn't feel well.

Two more prisoners moved up to their grave. Again, six shots rang out and their bodies toppled back. Then two more and two more.

A priest accompanied each pair of prisoners on the last march.

There were about 60 to 70 rebel soldiers and about eight civilians, including myself and two other bus drivers. The drivers and I didn't talk much, but when we did, we spoke in whispers.

About 8 o'clock or so, one of the lieutenants told me that by this time 52 had been executed. This was when I heard the officer say "I have a pain in my soul."

I saw one man, Lt. Despaigue, chief of army prowl cars in Santiago and a well-known murderer, go to his death like a hero. He was convicted of having killed 31 persons. I'm sure he killed many more. Everyone in Santiago hated and feared him.

He asked permission to direct his own execution and it was granted.

He marched to the grave, faced the firing squad, called "Attention! Ready! Aim! Fire!" and fell dead into the grave.

About three or four blocks away, a hill overlooks the firing range. When daylight came, a crowd of hundreds gathered on this hill shouting "kill them! kill them!" and cheering every time shots rang out.

I remained until it was all over at 11:25. I had to drive some soldiers to town, then I put the bus away and went home.

LEGS LIKE MICKEY MANTLE

Mikoyan Leaves Newsmen Awed

By THOMAS WHITNEY
NEW YORK (AP)—"That guy!" gasped the veteran West Coast reporter. "There was that one little kid with a big red baseball cap in the whole crowd. This Mikoyan no more gets out the door than he spots him and goes right over to pat him on the head. All the cameramen went off at once."

The scene had taken place at Perino's restaurant on Wilshire boulevard in Los Angeles.

In Detroit an exhausted reporter at the end of a long day sank into his chair at the office. "If Mickey Mantle could only have the legs this guy has got! He must have walked 10 miles today through all those auto plants. And he's 63 years old too."

At the Lincoln Electric Co. plant in Cleveland Mikoyan stopped to chat with a worker who spoke a bit of Russian. After a brief but cordial exchange, Mikoyan extended his hand to give a warm clasp and said: "And please do remember to give my very best wishes to your father and mother."

At a news conference at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles a correspondent asked a ticklish question: "How is it that you have managed to survive through four governments of the Soviet Union when others have not?"

Without a flicker of an eyelash, Mikoyan quipped in reply: "Didn't I say before that I thought I was fortunate . . ."

All these and dozens of other incidents illustrate one fact about Anastas I. Mikoyan. He takes to political campaigning like a duck to water. He has a gift for doing exactly the right thing at the right time in order to win over his audience or grab the stage. He loves being in the limelight. And he doesn't mind an uphill struggle.

"You know if he were to stick around for a while I think he would get elected senator," joked a California businessman.

And in fact in his seven-day five-city coast-to-coast tour of America, Mikoyan was waging a real political campaign. He was running against the deep mistrust for the Soviet Union which by now is ingrained in the American mind. He was campaigning to establish a picture of a Soviet leader as a warm, friendly, humorous and human type of person. He was campaigning against trade restrictions, against suspicion of Soviet motives. The platform he was running on was peace and an end to the cold war, more trade and more contacts between the Soviet Union and America, and the concept of "let's talk things over even if we don't think we can settle anything."

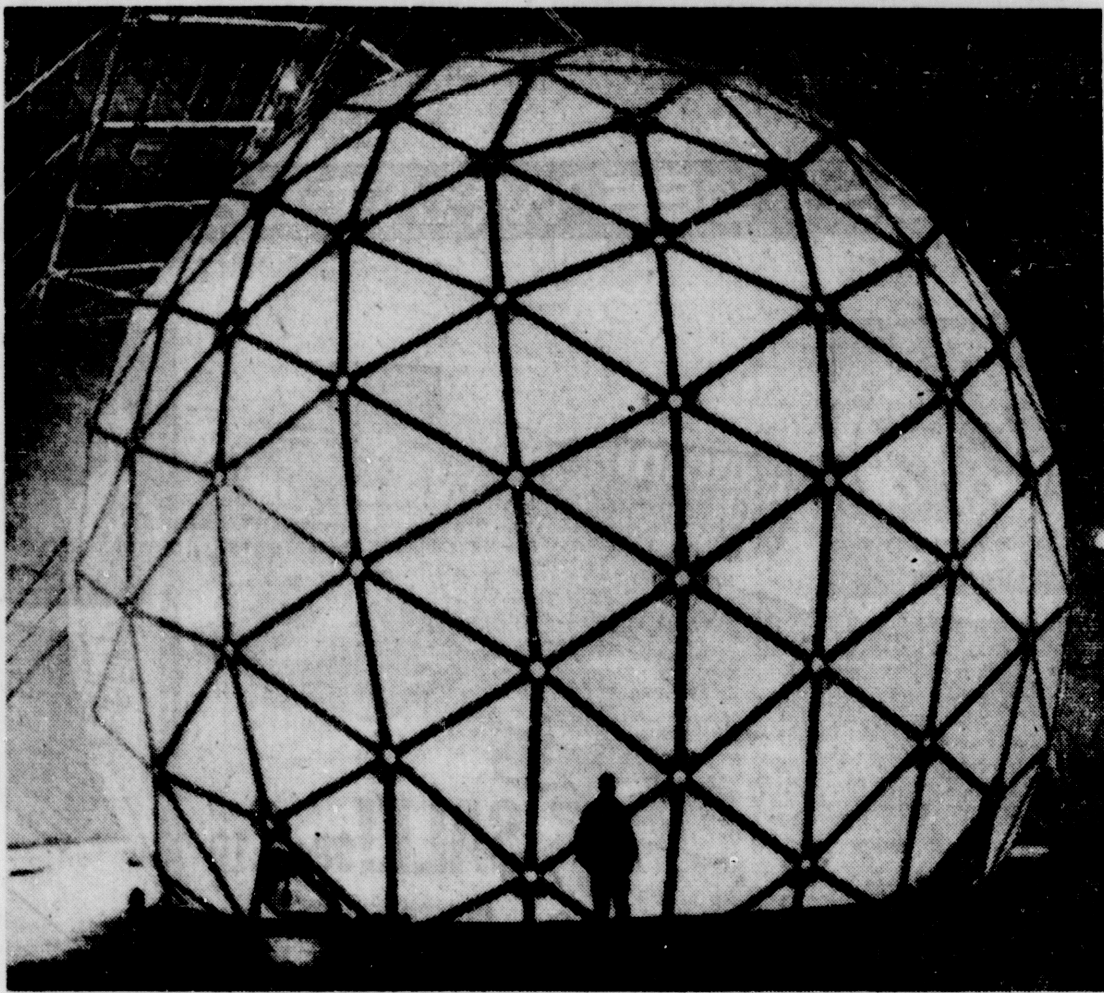

The Mikoyan technique includes humor, frankness, reasonableness, a warmly human approach and unperturbed stolidity in the face of open hostility.

His sense of humor has made more impression than perhaps any other single element in his approach.

Russ Call Anew For Reich Talks

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union called today for East-West talks on Germany and said its position on a German peace treaty was flexible and subject to negotiation.

The statement, carried by Moscow Radio in a broadcast beamed to North America, was the latest in a series of Soviet approaches to the West on Germany. It followed similar hints by the United States that it too was willing to explore means of settling the dispute over Germany.

London diplomatic sources predicted yesterday the West was moving toward an early meeting with the Soviets, probably on the foreign ministers' level.

The Moscow broadcast said: "The U.S.S.R. does not claim that its draft peace treaty and its proposals to the western governments are not subject to amendment or supplement, but for that there is need for the other side to take certain steps too."

"There is need to talk the matter over seriously with due consideration for the interests of both sides."

President Eisenhower yesterday rejected the Soviet proposals for a demilitarized and neutralized Germany, but he offered to come to Russia's aid if Germany were reunified on western terms and then tried to stir up trouble in Europe.

Japan Elated: 2 Lone Dogs Survive 11 Months Antarctic

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's press, radio and public erupted with ecstasies of delight today at the news that two of 15 sled dogs abandoned in the antarctic 11 months ago have been found alive.

"Two dogs survive!" headlined Tokyo's big dailies in type normally reserved for the death of Stalin, the outbreak of war and similar events.

Radios blared the news hourly. Newspapers, radio stations and news agencies were flooded with calls for more information. There was as much rejoicing as there had been prior when the dogs were left behind last February.

A six-man advance party was flown by helicopter last night from the antarctic expedition ship Soya to reopen the deserted Japanese base on Ongul Island. Masamk Murayama, leader of the party, radioed back that the two dogs came bounding up, wagging their tails in greeting. He said they were in good condition.

Murayama's first message gave no word of the other 13 dogs, or of how the two had managed to survive.

The 15 sled dogs, members of the vanishing Japanese Karafuto breed, were left behind when heavy ice kept the Soya from reaching the base to restock it for the antarctic winter. Bad weather halted flying after removal of the 11 Japanese scientists who had staffed the base and nine other dogs.

The dogs left behind were tied up and had food for only a few weeks.

Negro To Get State Job As Tax Appraiser

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Controller Alan Cranston said today he will start naming new state inheritance tax appraisers next week.

The first appointment will be a Negro, Cranston said. This will be the first Negro to serve as one of the state's 122 inheritance tax appraisers.

George L. Thomas, a Los Angeles attorney and executive director of the community relations conference of Southern California, is being considered for the job, the controller said.

The appraisers average about $9,000 to $10,000 a year in fees with some earning up to $30,000 to $40,000 a year. Their jobs are at the pleasure of the controller.

Cranston declared he will appoint mostly Democrats, but some Republicans also will be named. There will be a slow changeover extending into next year, he said.

One appraiser, Raymond D. Williamson, already has lost his job because his wife's uncle is a judge.

Ballot Pledge Given Algeria By De Gaulle

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle opened the first National Assembly of the Fifth Republic today with a pledge to work toward a political solution in Algeria through universal suffrage.

De Gaulle's generalized message, read to the Assembly by its president, Jacques Chaban Delmas, clearly implied more elections or referendums in the troubled North African territory where a rebellion has raged for four years.

A prerequisite to the expression of universal suffrage, de Gaulle said, was the pacification and economic transformation of Algeria.

NEW PROGRAM
Following de Gaulle's brief speech, newly named Premier Michel Debre presented to the packed chamber the program of his new government—a program supporting the Western Alliance but clearly demanding a bigger voice for France.

The deputies stood respectfully while Chaban Delmas read de Gaulle's statement.

De Gaulle called for the Assembly to put aside the bickering that weakened the old Fourth Republic and finally brought about its downfall.

ORDER DEMANDED
"A rigorous putting in order of our affairs is absolutely necessary in all those areas which touch upon our national destiny," de Gaulle said.

The Assembly was to have its first opportunity to discuss government policies after 7½ months of de Gaulle's one-man rule before Debre calls for a vote on his program.

The constitution of the new Fifth Republic does not require parliamentary approval of Debre's new government.

There was no danger of Debre's program being rejected since a big majority of deputies were elected as de Gaulle supporters.

Castro Hurls Defi; Pushes Executions

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro, defending the execution of persons the Cubans call war criminals, declared today that if the United States sends Marines to Cuba "200,000 gringos will die."

The rebel chieftain made the statement to a crowd which surrounded him in a hotel lobby as he was heading for a Rotary Club luncheon. The reported toll of executions by order of revolutionary courts has risen to 195.

It was not clear how the suggestion that the United States might send Marines to Cuba came up.

ACTION URGED
However, Asst. Secretary of State Roy Rubottom was summoned before the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee in Washington to face a demand for U. S. action to halt the executions.

Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio), the subcommittee chairman, suggested tough measure short of sending troops, such as shutting off U. S. credit or barring Cuban sugar.

Castro said the executions are not understood in other countries.

"We are trying those who killed 20, 30 or 40 persons," he said, "and they ask us to be humane."

MORE LIBERTY
"We are more democratic than President Eisenhower," Castro continued. "We are more democratic than John Foster Dulles. There is more liberty here than in the United States. There is no country in the world with more liberty than Cuba."

Fresh dispatches telling of the shooting of 10 men increased the reported toll of revolutionary justice to 195.

The Rebel leader said the executions will continue, regardless of world opinion about the summary justice accorded captive followers of ex-President Fulgencia Batista who are adjudged war criminals.

"We have given orders to shoot every one of these murderers," Castro declared last night.

Some convicted prisoners are getting prison terms. A few are being freed. A tribunal at Santiago yesterday provisionally freed fifty-three civilians and two military men.

NEW COURT
A new Supreme Court headed by Judge Emilio Menendez was sworn in here today. This tribunal eventually is to take over war crimes trials from the revolutionary courts.

In another development, rebel military strength in Havana was reduced. About 5,000 men of the Second National Front of Escambray, commanded by Maj Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, pulled out for Las Villas province of central Cuba, where they will be demilitarized.

Scattered criticism of the court-martial justice began to develop in Latin America. Two newspapers in Rio de Janeiro, one in Buenos Aires and one in Costa Rica called for more deliberating action.

Revival Planned For Novato Group

Members of Novato's Forest Park Improvement Assn. have voted to continue to keep the group active, despite apparent waning interest by residents of the subdivision.

President Robert Coursey, who suggested at a recent membership meeting that the group disband, said he was surprised when the members declared their hope of keeping the unit alive.

The group set Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in Lynwood School as the time and place for election of new officers.

MMWD Board Wants Details On Tram Plan

Manuel Gomez, Mill Valley jeweler and developer, last night offered Marin Municipal Water District directors a $500 cashier's check for 18 months' trial operation of an "elephant train" over district property up the side of Mt. Tamalpais.

The water board gave the check back, however, members saying they'd have to know more about Gomez's plans before they could complete a deal.

Gomez, appearing at the directors' regular meeting in San Rafael, proposed that the right for trial operation of the "elephant train" would entail an option for a 15-to-25-year lease at the end of the trial period.

He said he would run the string of trackless, view-dome vehicles (similar to those seen in zoos and amusement parks) up the right-of-way of the "crookedest railroad in the world" which formerly ran up Mt. Tam. The route is controlled by the water district.

Some members of the board expressed doubt such vehicles could climb the steep mountain, reported Robert Brusatori, secretary. But Gomez claimed the plan is practicable.

Directors laid the matter over indefinitely, with Gomez requested to present more details.

The water board last night also opened bids on the first pumps for the district's new North Marin water line. The pumping station will be between Lagunitas and San Geronimo. Low bidder was B. Miles Thomas at $35,776, reported Brusatori. Award of contract was delayed until next Wednesday's meeting.

All directors were present except William A. Marcus, who is away on a trip.

Governor Explores Job Discrimination

SACRAMENTO — Governor Brown confers with employment and industrial relations specialists today for advice on how to end job discrimination against California's older citizens.

He said he would ask the group to recommend specific legislation to cope with the problem.

"This is not the only problem of aging about which I am concerned," said Brown, "but I think this is an area in which we can take effective action almost immediately."

Water District Board Elects New President

For the first time in 15 years, Marin Municipal Water District has a new president today.

Directors of the district last night elected Robert G. Anderson of Sausalito, who at 49 is the board's youngest member, to the presidency.

Anderson took over the gavel from Thomas T. Kent of Kentfield, who has wielded it as president for 15 years. Kent had already been in the presidential chair five years before Anderson began his service on the MMWD board.

Anderson is former owner of the Marin-Sonoma Fast Freight, Sonoma Express Co. and Petaluma and Santa Rosa Express, and co-owner of the former Sausalito, Mill Valley and San Francisco Express Co. He is now affiliated with Merchants Express.

He is also vice president of Sausalito Savings and Loan Assn., past exalted ruler and trustee of San Rafael Lodge 1108, B.P.O. Elks, and active in various other organizations. He has been a Sausalito resident since birth.

Trustees Okay Using $2,500 On Equipment

Expenditure of $2,500 was authorized last night by trustees of the San Anselmo School District for encyclopedias, movie projectors, microscopes and maps and globes.

The items will be purchased immediately, said James R. Jordan, assistant superintendent.

The San Anselmo board (all but William Davis, clerk, were present) agreed to review the present teacher salary range of $4,400 to $7,000 on March 30. The data will be submitted to the Kentfield and Fairfax boards to see whether a joint meeting then can be scheduled.

In other business last night, the San Anselmo trustees:

1. Heard a report in executive session on two suspended pupils from Supt. Harold R. DePue;
2. Reviewed the 1958 grand jury report on schools and termed it a "constructive criticism";
3. Adopted a resolution supporting the proposed Tamalpais Union High School District tax rate increase of 65 cents, to be voted on Feb. 17.

Taking His Time

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich.

Home for dinner, city fireman Jack Lawson heard a crackling sound in the wall of his home. He raced the three and a half blocks back to the fire station in his car, returned in the fire truck with companion firemen, and they put out a small blaze blamed on defective wiring.

W-2 Form Raises Question, Where Did It All Go?

About this time of year we begin to worry about our W-2 forms and how much more income tax we'll have to pay or how much of a refund (lucky fellow) can be eked out of Uncle Sam.

And each year at this time, when we actually see how much money we made in the past year we always wonder, Where did it all go?

Actually, if your family had a cash income — before taxes — of around $5,000 last year, you are a typical-income U.S. family. There were the same number of families in this country making more than you did and less than your $5,000.

If you made as much as $10,000 or more, you are in the upper 10 per cent in the nation. Only one family in 10 made $10,000 or more. And one family in seven made less than $2,000, nationally, although there probably isn't that large a proportion in Marin County.

These were the findings of the Census Bureau for 1957. Although many wage scales were higher in 1958, there were more people unemployed because of the recession, so family income for the two years should be about the same, the statisticians say.

It was a year of joint earning power. There were almost as many families with more than one income-earner as there were families with only one breadwinner. Then too, the typical cash income in a metropolitan area like San Francisco and Marin is more than twice that in a rural farm area. But the Census Bureau notes that farm workers get more foodstuffs and rent free living quarters than the city workers.

The average income in the West, and in the Northeast too, was about 10 per cent higher than the average for the country. The North Central States were about average, but the South was 20 per cent below average income when all workers were considered. The white workers in the South were about 12 per cent below the average.

If the man is the chief wage earner and his wife is living with him, their combined income is about one fourth higher when the wife works too, the bureau says.

So now you know where you stand on the general income picture. Now you can go back to your income tax forms and figure out where you stand specifically in relation to the cost of government.

And, incidentally, if you find any exemptions you might not know about, let us know, will you?

As The Hills Turn Green Again

It does not require much rain to turn the hills of Marin green. Already the annual miracle has occurred — from golden to green in a matter of days.

Some Marinites may not be aware of it, but the grass on our hills and dales is one of Marin's greatest resources. It is the backbone of our country's thriving dairy industry.

In the winter and spring, Marin is as green as the Emerald Isle, as any Irishman will tell you. Yet, with apologies to the leprechauns, we must point out that County Cork never had the variety of vegetation with which we are blessed.

As the hills turn green again, we are once more pleased that fate gave us the opportunity to live and work in this stimulating and beautiful region.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

KEEP VALUES STRAIGHT

A unique recession cure appeared in an editorial of the Southern Michigan prison newspaper at Jackson, Michigan. It read in part as follows:

"Without a criminal element there would be no need for police officers to protect you. If there were no need for police officers, thousands of men would be out of work.

"Banks, locks, burglar alarms, vaults, guards, insurance companies all would be unnecessary.

"Aren't you glad there are a few honest thieves around to keep you working?" Though this was written in a light vein, there is always a danger that any of us may trifle with evil because of self-interest.

For instance, some half-blink at war because it helps business. Yet they would never think of encouraging sickness to give employment to doctors, nurses or druggists.

Root your life in the unchanging truths of Christ and expediency will never get the best of you.

"Cast all your care upon Him, for He hath care of you." (1 Peter 5:7)

Thanks, O Holy Spirit, for giving me the strength to be steadfast in the midst of temptation.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Says Dad Of Accused Kidnaper's Fate: 'It Is For God To Decide'

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

"It is not a matter for the state," murmured Frank Chionchio. "It is for God to decide."

The question at issue was what was to be done with Jean Iavarone, accused of kidnapping the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chionchio 2½ hours after her birth in a Brooklyn hospital.

To the consternation of officials neither young lawyer Chionchio nor his wife wanted to press charges against widowed Mrs. Iavarone, mother of eight children herself.

The young couple who had borne themselves with a dignity beyond hysteria during their long ordeal, were not interested in punishing the kidnaper. They were only happy and grateful they had their baby back, alive and well.

This attitude was incomprehensible to the forces of the law, who had thrown from 500 to 700 men into a 10-day-and-night street-by-street search for the stolen infant.

To Chionchio, 28, a lawyer for the Port of New York Authority, Mrs. Iavarone was "a poor, sick woman" unable to comprehend the enormity of the crime or the suffering it had caused.

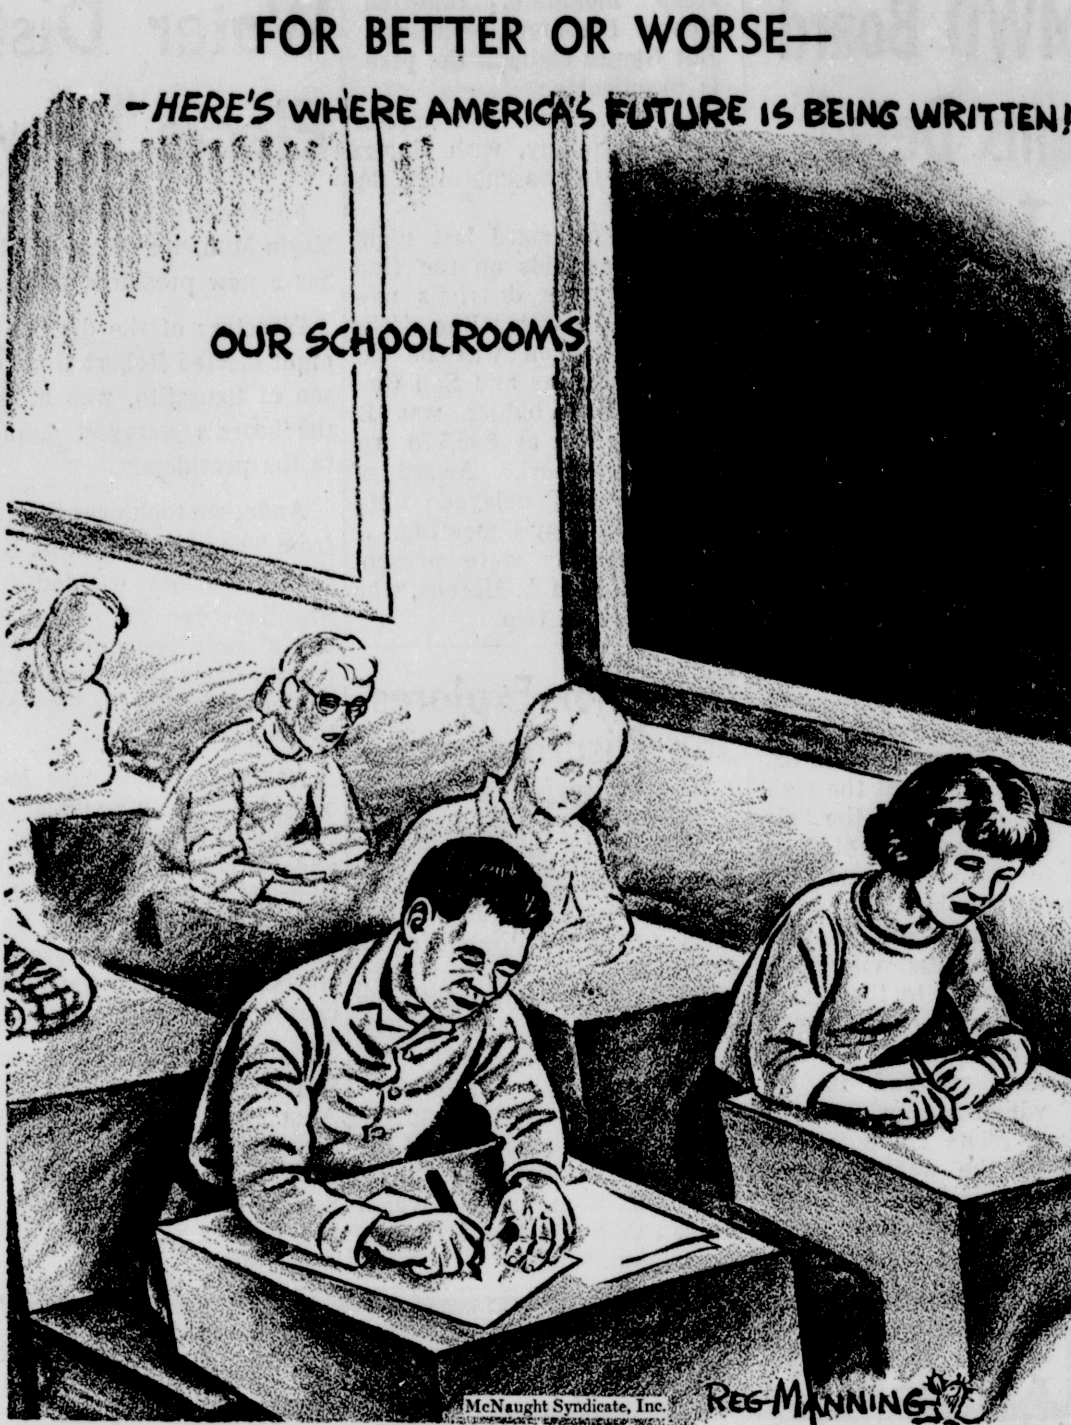

ONLY AFTER CONSIDERABLE pressure by legal officials, during which it was pointed out that he himself could be held as a material witness in the case, did he reluctantly sign a complaint against Mrs. Iavarone.

Even then, as he left the conference, the young father murmured stubbornly: "It is not a matter for the state. It is for God to decide."

To many, the attitude of Mr. and Mrs. Chionchio must seem incredibly naive.

WE PAY LIP SERVICE to the ideals of forgiveness, turning the other cheek, and doing unto one another as we would have them do unto us. But in our daily life we often don't don't live up to these ideals. We turn to the older law of fang and claw.

It is unimportant whether Mr. and Mrs. Chionchio are right or wrong. In an angry world, their Christian charity under stress stands as a bright beacon of true faith.

Give Marin Back To Indians?

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

Even in deference to the bucolic yearnings of the good Chula Vista and Meadowsweet people and with due allowance for their right to act in neighborhood affairs, I question seriously the rationale of their motives and the wisdom of their action, for an apparent gain today may well turn into an odious defeat tomorrow.

We cannot stop the tide of Westward Movement but Zen-wise we might control it. The price of being able to "hate" apartments today may well be the dollar sign of highway commercialism or the decadence of shanty-town suburbia tomorrow.

The people have been heard in Chula Vista and in Meadowsweet. Their voices were strong and their power great. But victory doesn't always fall to the wise. The self interest of the developer has at least been enlightened by costly and objective professional opinion. The self interest of these protestants was subjectively justified by negative emotion and then forcefully presented by hired tongues. Contemplation shows us that enlightened self-interest contains a modicum of altruism and a lot of wisdom.

Either let's have positive, creative and long-range thinking about land use or let's give Marin back to the Indians!

SACRAMENTO REPORT

Battle Lines Drawn For Big Tax Fight

By JAMES C. ANDERSON
SACRAMENTO (UP) — Battle lines already are being drawn in the Capitol for the big fight over taxes.

It promises to be a lollapalooza, perhaps an even tougher fight than the one waged between Gov. Earl Warren and the Legislature in 1947 over highway taxes.

On one side will be Gov. Edmund G. Brown, the kingpin of the Democratic party, and the young liberals in both Assembly and Senate who backed his gubernatorial candidacy from the start.

On the other side undoubtedly will be most Republican legislators, and perhaps a rather substantial number of Democrats who would desert their leader if it came to a showdown on a vote for new taxes. And, of course, there will be lobbyists by the dozens opposing the governor.

GOV. BROWN already has made it clear he will ask for new taxes before the end of the month — taxes to finance his program for "responsible liberalism" and to offset a deficit inherited from past Republican administrations. That deficit by the end of June is expected to total 90 million dollars. By midsummer of 1960 it may be 200 million or more.

Exactly what taxes will be sought is still undecided.

Beer, horse racing and possibly liquor may be targets. Undoubtedly, cigarettes and tobacco products will come in for taxation for the first time in the state's history.

There may be requests for income, bank and corporation tax hikes and maybe even a severance tax on oil and gas and timber.

But no matter what targets the Brown administration sets its sights on, the governor faces stern opposition.

THE STATE Chamber of Commerce already is on record against new or higher taxes, the influential organized labor lobbyists will fight a beer tax increase or a cigaret tax, special interest lobbyists

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK
By DIANA BRUCE

James Bryant Conant States Views To Bay Area Educators

DR. JAMES BRYANT Conant, who spent almost 20 years as president of Harvard University, was sent to Germany in 1952 as U.S. High Commissioner.

While he was High Commissioner and later as Ambassador to Germany when the formal occupation ended, Dr. Conant found he was often called upon to explain the peculiar American educational system.

A week ago he was in San Francisco performing almost the same task before an audience of 750 educators and laymen — all of them anxious to hear what light he could shed on American high schools and the job they are doing.

Dr. Conant was not considered by educators to be a critic to be taken lightly. And he could not be considered a party to "Sputnik hysteria" about education because he began his two-year study in 1957 before any Sputniks were launched.

The 65-year-old elder statesman among educators said he believed the best hope was the "comprehensive high school."

It would be a high school which prepared its academically gifted students for college, its non-college preparatory students for trades by teaching them "marketable skills," and its slow learners taught as much as special attention and special courses can be expected to teach them.

DR. CONANT said certain critics of American high schools would like to see them patterned after European models — the German gymnasium or the French lycee.

These European schools prepare their students with an eight or nine-year pre-university course. One-half to two-thirds of the students never graduate. Others, who do not qualify at age 10 or 11 to enter them, end their schooling at 14 and go to work.

"This in the United States is literally impossible," declared Dr. Conant.

And he gave some very persuasive reasons. Among other changes that would have to be made:

1. Four-year liberal arts colleges would have to be abolished and the three-year specialized training of European universities substituted;

2. Uniform standards for college admission and degrees would have to be established;

3. Laws on employment of youth would have to be changed, to say nothing of the attitudes of unions and management.

4. All local school boards would have to be abolished and curriculum and hiring of all teachers placed in the hands of the state.

"YOU WOULD HAVE to persuade people to turn back on the American belief on local responsibility and the ideals of equality of opportunity and equality of status of all forms of honest labor," he said.

"You wouldn't get to first base trying to make any one of these changes." More or less stuck with things the way they are, Dr. Conant had a number of opinions which might joggle local school boards and school administrators. Here are some samples:

An adequate counseling system should have one full-time counselor for every 250 to 300 students.

Any high school with a graduating class of 100 or less is too small to be able to offer much academically.

English teachers should teach no more than 100 pupils so that they can assign and correct one theme a week. Half the time in English classes should be devoted to English composition.

A high school should offer the third and fourth years of a foreign language, no matter how few enroll.

EACH SCHOOL board should require an "academic inventory." The inventory should be completed for the top 15 per cent of each graduating class. Omitting names, it should state the sex of the pupil, ability level, courses taken during the four years and the grades obtained. Examination of the inventory will show to what extent the academically talented pupils have studied those subjects they should have studied and will roughly measure the efficacy of the counseling system.

10 YEARS AGO

Sebastian (Jack) Cimino, Fairfax city councilman since August, resigned from the council, making the third resignation in the six months.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

On a safari in the African jungle, a famous sportsman and his wife were the guests one night of a Zulu tribe. The chief's favorite served an exotic and not unappetizing hors d'oeuvre. Pressed for the recipe, she disclosed that the main ingredients were roasted gnats, antelope's eyes, giraffe tails, and a dash of poison ivy. "How do you usually serve this delightful dish?" asked the sportsman's wife. The chief's favorite answered simply, "Like now, of course. On Melba toast."

The daughter of a famous American artist has a passion for flitting about barefoot, but her mother frowned on the practice. "You're getting to be a grown-up young lady now," she pointed out, "and I insist that you wear shoes."

One morning the daughter ignored the "Keep Out" sign on the door of her father's studio, and came upon him painting a model in the nude. She raced right to her mother, and announced triumphantly, "You see, mama? She's allowed to go barefoot!"

Brown Ultimatum: 'I Run Government'

I-J Special Service
SACRAMENTO — Gov. Ed. mund G. Brown told his depart- ment heads yesterday that he is going to run the state govern- ment and he doesn't want them doing or saying anything without his consent.

The governor also told the department heads he wanted them to save $5,000,000 from their budgets before the end of the fiscal year June 30.

In a two hour closed confer- ence, Brown laid down these rules.

Bill Would Move Court To Capital

SACRAMENTO (P) — The State Supreme Court should meet in Sacramento, says As- semblyman Frank Lanterman (R-La Canada).

He introduced a resolution yesterday which would require the court to move from San Francisco to the state capital. Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk re- cently made the same move, saying he wanted to be at the seat of government.

Records Rifled

Harry Fitzgibbon, operator of the Richfield Service Station at 789 Redwood highway, Alto, reported to the Marin City sheriff's sub-station yesterday that while checking his records he found his papers had been rifled and that an automobile pink ownership certificate was missing along with several other records.

Brown Launches Drive For Election Reforms

SACRAMENTO (UP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown launched a personal attempt today to get the Legislature to adopt a "purity of elections" law.

Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced) introduced in the Assembly at Brown's request a bill to junk the present haphazard system of re- porting election campaign ex- penses and contributions and substitute a tight law with pen- alty provisions.

A similar bill was introduced in the Assembly in 1957, stag- gered through the lower house but was abandoned in the Sen- ate. Brown, then attorney gen- eral, strongly supported the measure.

NEED CITED

The governor said in his in- augural message that election practice reforms are vitally needed.

Under present law, a candi- date for statewide office in California does not have to ac- count for any money received by any campaign committee

1 Department heads should "clear controversial speeches and press releases" with the governor's office. There was no definition given of "contro- versial," but it was indicated the governor did not require "rou- tine" news releases to be clear- ed.

CLEARANCE FIRST

2. No legislative measures proposed by the various de- partments are to be introduced in the Legislature without clearance and they must carry designation as a departmental bill. Brown said all of his pro- posals would be introduced "by request of governor."

3. Departments will not either support or oppose any bill without clearance from the governor's office, and they should not take stands on as many bills as they have in the past.

4. Any legislator or com- mittee should be "immediate- ly" given full and accurate in- formation in response to a re- quest, but no departmental stand should be taken without clearance.

5. "Under no circumstances" should one department take a view contrary to another de- partment without clearance.

As to saving $5,000,000. Brown, backed up by Finance Director Bert Levit, told his aides they should make econ- omies in personnel, travel, printing, purchasing, telephone calls, equipment and in other areas of administration. He suggested, as an example, that a state worker could substitute air coach travel for first class when traveling by air.

acting in his behalf. Nor are any penalties assessed if he fails to file a complete account- ing of campaign contributions and expenditures.

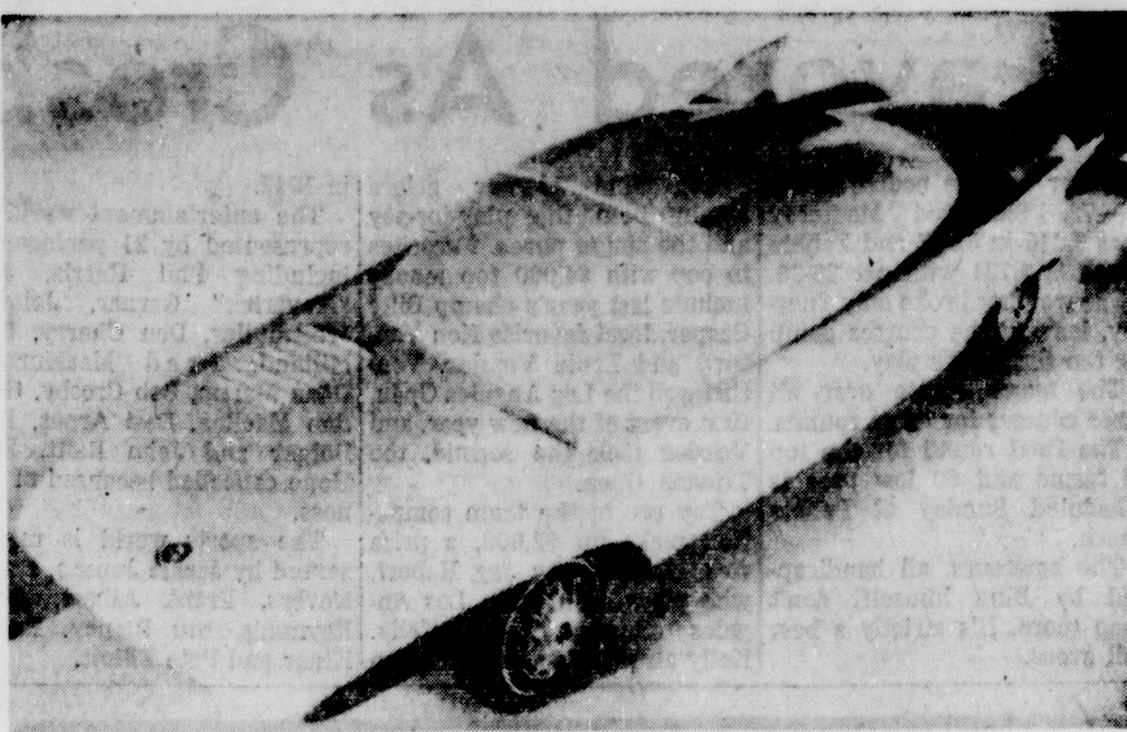

Under the Winton bill, no committee could collect or spend money for a candidate without his personal approval. A candidate would have to ap- point a treasurer and the treas- urer in turn would have to ac- count to the Secretary of State's office for money received and spent during the cam- paign.

LIST CONTRIBUTIONS

The bill provides the state- ments "must show all campaign contributions received; the amount of each contribution which alone or when added to other contributions by the same person exceeds $50."

Names of the contributors would have to be shown in the candidates' statements.

Violation of the law would be a misdemeanor, subject to a fine up to $1,000 or six months imprisonment or both.

SOMETHING NEW IN PROPULSION

Here is an "idea" car driven by four high-speed electric motors receiving energy from fuel cell into which oxygen and hydrogen fuels would be fed from the outside. A motor would be geared to each wheel. This Cella I car will be shown by Chrysler's DeSoto Division at the Chicago Auto Show starting Satur- day. (AP Wirephoto)

Single Authority To Regulate All Bay Area Bridges Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Plans were announced yester- day for the formation of an ac- tive Citizens Committee for a Golden Gate Authority to lead a drive to bring the Bay Area's bridges, seaports and airports under a single body.

Marin Senator John F. Mc- Carthy is preparing a bill for introduction in the Legislature which would create such an authority.

Edgar F. Kaiser, president of the San Francisco Bay Area Council and chairman of the citizens committee, called the Golden Gate Authority "a practical, workable means of achieving local control—home rule—of our bridges, seaports and airports."

"Our committee is deter- mined to bring political realization to the demonstrably workable recommendations of the technical experts," the Oakland in- dustrialist said.

Kaiser said the committee was forming "so that everyone, regardless of organization af- filiation, could work effectively together to help bring the Gold- en Gate Authority into being."

William T. Bagley of San Rafael is a member of the com- mittee.

Registration Opens For Painting Classes

Registrations are now open for mosaic and experimental painting classes conducted by Olive Fetherstonhaugh at the Southern Marin Recreation Center, according to manager Helen Issel.

The classes are held Wed. and Thurs. from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Enroll- ment is limited. Reservations and information may be ob- tained at the center office.

Billy Graham Must Rest, Cut Schedule

ROCHESTER, Minn. (P)—An eye ailment will force Billy Graham to take a month's rest and then curtail his activities, says the evangelist's personal physician, Dr. Kenneth Gieser of Chicago.

Dr. Gieser said last night he and Mayo Clinic specialists had confirmed that Graham was suffering from a spastic swell- ing of blood vessels back of the retina of the left eye, cut- ting sight of that eye by about 50 per cent.

Grady Wilson, a Graham associate, said the minister would take the rest ordered by the doctors after remaining here the rest of this week for further examination and treat- ment.

The installation dinner-dance is set for 8 p.m.

Mick succeeds Arthur Fel- lows. Albert E. Bagshaw will install Mick and the following new officers:

Mario Soldavini of the park department, vice president; Doris Foley, secretary, and Jo- anne Walsh, treasurer.

Outgoing officers are Fel- lows, president; Joseph J. Bru- satori, vice president; Francis Rodgers, secretary, and Donald Christensen, treasurer.

Death Knell Sounds For Fox Hunting

EAST GRIMSTEAD, England (UP)—Animal lovers in this stronghold of fox hunting laid plans today to end "this beast- ly business" by putting all the foxes to death in a humane manner—shooting and gassing—before they can become the victims of a hunt.

Package Rate At Heavenly Valley; Marin Ski Patrol Being Formed

A five-day package rate will prevail at Heavenly Valley, on the south shore of Lake Tahoe, for the remainder of the ski season. For $69.95 an adult skier is entitled to five days of unlimited use of the lifts, Monday through Friday, five half-day lessons from the Eric Sailer Ski School staff, lodging and five breakfasts and dinners at either Ski Run Lodge or Tahoe Sands at Bijou.

Ski Run Lodge will offer evening social hours including dancing, cards, ping pong, swimming in the heated pool, free hors d'oeuvres, and after-ski gatherings with Sailer and staff showing movies and answering individual questions. These package winter vacations are not available during the Washington's birthday weekend or Easter week.

More information concerning special weekend tours to Heavenly Valley can be obtained from Bob Everson at San Rafael Sporting Goods.

THE COLLEGIATE jumping events were cancelled last Sunday for lack of snow, but there was sufficient snow in the Heavenly Valley upper bowl to conduct the cross-country races.

ECHO SUMMIT Ski Area on Highway 50 (the all year, high gear highway) reports skiing was excellent on the top of the mountain even after 30 hours of rain. Their motto, "The higher you go, the better the snow."

DODGE RIDGE had enough snow last Sunday to hold the first in a series of weekly Nugget Slalom races. About 41 skiers ran the 25-gate course set by Cappy Cook, winter sports director, on the Ridge's T-bar slope.

Dodge Ridge also offers a special Monday through Friday plan which includes lodging, meals, ski lessons and lift privileges for $11 a day.

3 Catchers First To Sign For S.F.

Three catchers signed 1959 contracts today with the San Francisco Giants.

Bob Schmidt, Hobie Landrith and Al Stieglitz were the first Giants to ink pacts this year. Terms were not made public.

Schmidt, who was nominated to the National League's all star team in 1958, batted .244 in 120 games and collected 14 homers.

Landrith was obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals this winter and had played previously for the Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs.

Stieglitz, a farm hand, was called up from Corpus Christi where he batted .296.

Venturi Favored As Crosby Golf Starts

PEBBLE BEACH (P)—Golf's glamour boys, heartened by good news from the weatherman, hit the trail today in the first round of Bing Crosby's $50,000 National Pro-Amateur Tournament.

The forecaster predicted clear skies through Friday—and possibly Saturday—for the double-edge tournament played over three lush courses bordering the Pacific.

The 300-man field, 150 teams, starts on Pebble Beach, Monterey Peninsula or feared Cypress Point, the 6,317-yard layout. Par for the course is 37-35-72. Sheltered Monterey goes 6,246 in 35-37 and Pebble Beach is 6,701 with par 36-36. The weather broke only Tuesday, leaving the courses damp for the first day's play.

The teams rotate over all three courses for three rounds.

The final round for the top 40 teams and 60 low pros is scheduled Sunday at Pebble Beach.

The amateurs, all handicapped by Bing himself, don't keep score. It's strictly a best ball event.

You find glamor galore among both the play-for-pay and the simon pures. Favorites to cop with $4,000 top money include last year's champ Billy Casper, local favorite Ken Venturi, and Ernie Vossler. Venturi won the Los Angeles Open, first event of the new year, and Vossler took the second, the Tijuana Open.

Top pro in the team competition picks up $2,000, a prize won last year by Jay Hebert, who plays again with Los Angeles attorney Roger Kelly. Kelly also was a pro-am champ in 1947. The entertainment world is represented by 21 performers including Phil Harris, Jim "Maverick" Garner, Johnny Weismuller, Don Cherry, Ray Milland, Fred MacMurray, Dean Martin, Bob Crosby, Gordon MacRae, Desi Arnaz, Ray Bolger and John Raitt. Bob Hope cancelled because of illness.

The sports world is represented by Jackie Jensen, Ernie Nevers, Frank Albert, Allie Reynolds, Bill Rigney, Ralph Kiner and Pete Elliott.

Casper is teamed with Bob "Horse" Reynolds, former Stanford footballer. The pair finished second in 1957. Vossler pairs with Bill Higgins, outstanding California amateur, and Venturi teams with auto dealer Chuck French.

About that 16th hole, which goes 222 yards over water on a peninsula. Art Wall took a 7 there Wednesday and vowed that during the tournament he would go the safe way, a short iron played to the left instead of a direct shot.

Most of the pros use a wood on the wind-blown terror which once cost Porky Oliver 16 strokes, but boomer George Bayer made it Wednesday with an iron.

Venturi, who's been playing this tournament since 1949—with a year out for Army duty—contended he would play it close to the vest unless the situation calls for an extreme gamble.

Rest assured, Venturi will be going for the top prize. "There's nothing besides first," he says.

Cronin Takes Over As A.L. Prexy Feb. 1

CHICAGO (P)—Joe Cronin, one of baseball's most celebrated stars, unofficially has been crowned president of the American League.

An American League screening committee agreed yesterday that the 52-year-old Cronin should succeed Will Harridge as president of the major league's junior circuit, effective Feb. 1. Harridge, 73, resigned last month.

Cronin is general manager of the Boston Red Sox.

His formal acceptance of the league presidency is expected to be approved at a club owners' meeting in New York Jan. 31.

Cronin met with the screening committee. He said he was not interested in becoming league president unless certain conditions were met. They were:

The conditions included moving the league office from Chicago to Boston, but retaining a branch office in Chicago.

The branch office would be in charge of Will Harridge, who resigned as league president after 27 years in office.

Still to be confirmed at the Jan. 31 meeting was Cronin's request for a five-year contract at Harridge's salary—$50,000 a year with a $15,000 expense account.

"Mr. Harridge has done a top-notch job," said Cronin. "I know I must confer with him to continue the excellent job he has done in running the American League."

"As for myself, I know we must crawl before we walk and walk before we run."

Cronin said it would take a little time before he could state a policy on league expansion.

In 1929, the unheralded Cronin became a regular shortstop for the Washington Senators. In 1930, he batted .346 and was named the American League's Most Valuable Player.

Two years later, he succeeded Walter Johnson as manager of the Senators, just before he reached his 26th birthday.

In 1933, his first season at the Washington helm, the Senators won the American League pennant.

Cronin managed the Boston Red Sox from 1935 through 1947 and then replaced Eddie Collins as Boston general manager. In 1956, he was voted into Baseball's Hall of Fame.

A.L. In L.A.? It's A Cinch Within 5 Years: O'Malley

LOS ANGELES (P)—President Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers says an American League club is certain to follow him to Los Angeles, and when it comes he'll be glad to lease his new stadium.

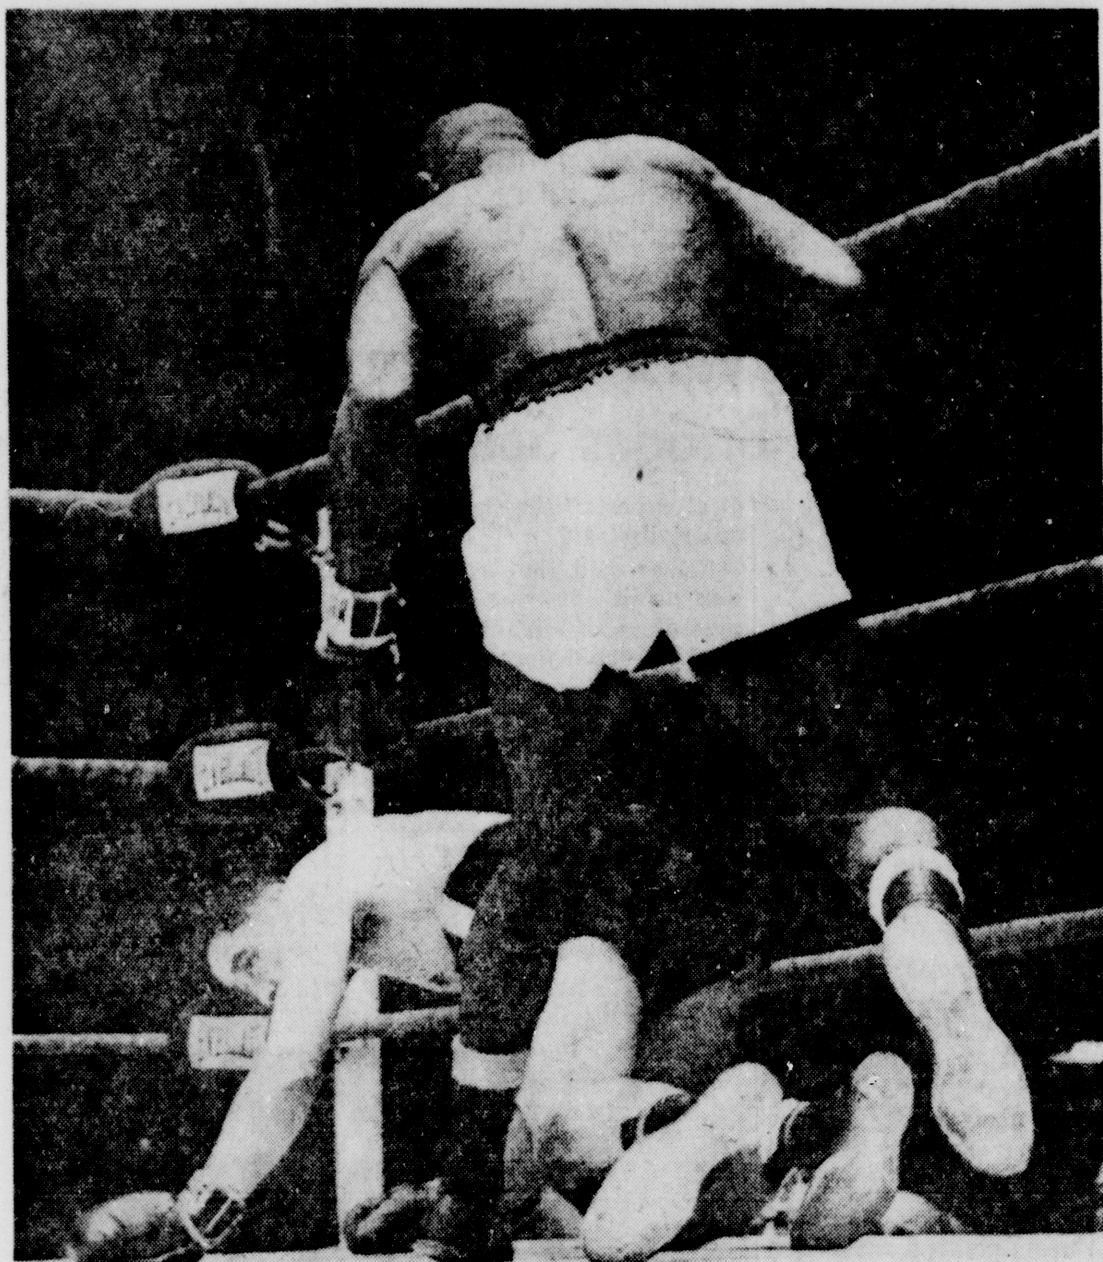

"I will not stand in the way of an American League club coming here," he said yesterday. "In fact, I think it's an absolute cinch to happen, and within five years, too. I'll even make our stadium available to them."

His contract with the city of Los Angeles for a site in Chavez Ravine, where he will build his 12-million-dollar baseball plant, has been upheld by the State Supreme Court. O'Malley is anxious to get construction started and has set Feb. 15 as his target date.

RAY WINS DECISION

Loser Of TV Fight 'Out' For 7 Rounds

CHICAGO (P)—Sonny Ray, with a smashed right hand, and Roque Maravilla, who was in a blackout for seven rounds, went through the motions for 10 rounds last night.

Ray, the fifth-ranked light heavyweight contender, gained a unanimous decision in the Chicago Stadium nationally-televized bout.

Ray tagged his Boise, Idaho, opponent with a long right with the first punch he threw in the first round. Maravilla, making his TV ring debut, staggered. A left and another right floored him.

Maravilla came out after taking a nine count, covered up well and weathered it. From then on until the last two rounds, they pumped ineffective shots at each other mostly along the ropes.

Most of Maravilla's action came in the final two rounds, after he found out where he was.

"I didn't remember anything after being knocked down until the end of the eighth round," the 22-year-old former Golden Glover said.

Ray's right hand was swollen badly and X-rays were to be taken to see if there were any broken bones.

COLLEGE GRID RULES

'Wild Card' Player To Liven Up Game

LOS ANGELES (P)—College football in 1959 will have the "wild card" player to follow the famous "lonesome end" of 1958.

The "wild card" player will be a substitute who can re-enter a game as many times as his coach chooses, provided he goes in when the game clock is stopped.

The player could be a key quarterback, a kicking specialist or perhaps a guard carrying instructions from the sidelines.

As a result of rules changes, games should be more wide open, higher scoring and crowd-pleasing.

Such was the hope today of the men who write and re-write the rule book, the National Collegiate Rules Committee. Their major changes, announced yesterday after a three-day meeting:

1. Relaxation of the substitution rule.
2. Widening the goal posts—for the first time in the history of the game—from the present inside-the-post distance of 18 feet 6 inches to 23 feet 4 inches, or the outside distance of 19-2 to 24. The posts remain 10 yards back of the goal line.
3. Revisions of penalties, including infractions on tries for the extra point.

Unchanged was the two-point conversion rule.

Acting Chairman H. O. "Fritz" Crisler, serving as head of the committee for the 10th year, said there was considerable sentiment against a return to the two-plateon system.

He explained the "wild card" player, as in a poker game, this way:

"If only one eligible substitute enters the field while the clock is stopped, he will not be recorded as an entry except during an excess time out, such as when a player is hurt.

"However, if more than one substitute enters the field between downs, each sub will be recorded.

"Basically, we are keeping the rule of last year. But it will allow a team to get a man into the game when the clock is dead."

Another change increases the number of times out per half from four to five.

Rules involving penalties were changed.

No distance penalty, meaning a stepped-off yardage penalty, shall be greater than half the distance to the goal line.

The try for the extra point was revised when there is a penalty. An example: the team on offense successfully kicks the placement for one point, but the defensive team is called on a penalty. The offensive team has the option of accepting the one-point gained on the kick, plus the required yardage penalty on the ensuing kickoff; or it can decline its one-point score, accept the penalty placing the ball on the one and one-half yard mark, and try for two points.

Power Squadron Opens Free Classes Tonight

The U.S. Power Squadron's popular basic course in piloting, seamanship and small boat handling will be offered from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. for the next 12 Thursdays, starting today. Classes will be held in Room 67 of the Arts Building at College of Marin.

The course in nautical education is open to the public at no charge. Instructors include Dr. Alfred Schwarz of San Anselmo, lieutenant commander of the San Francisco Power Squadron Unit; Ed Cadogan of Kentfield and Bill Holloway of Sausalito. These instructors, all members of the squadron, donate their teaching services.

This is the fifth time the class has been offered in Marin. Attendance has averaged more than 100 students for the previous courses, and Dr. Schwarz says that Marin attendance exceeds that at the San Francisco lectures.

Marin Power Squadron members operate as part of the San Francisco unit of the national power squadron organization. Leaders hope that Marin will have an independent unit by the end of the year. There are now

Cepeda Demands 20 Grand, But May Have To Settle For A Compromise

If by any chance you've read the Bay Area fishwrappers in the past week you have, no doubt, heard about Orlando Cepeda, the S.F. Giant Rookie of the Year, declaring he wants $20,000 for working 154 games during the 1959 season.

I have nothing against Cepeda; as a matter of fact I have a fondness for the guy because he is the only foreigner who talks with his hands with gestures I can understand.

So without further ado we'll plunge into the interesting case of the first sacker who can make or break the Giants during the coming season.

For an unassuming player, Cepeda deserves a round of loud applause. He came to the Giants for practically nothing. He worked hard through the Giant farm system and last spring became the cause celebre of the Giants, which is French for "hot shot." He hadn't been around long last spring when anybody with an ounce of baseball intelligence could detect a great prospect. He was, at that time happier than a one-armed paper hanger, because he was earning 7,500 clams a year in American money, which is about 10 times what anybody in the Puerto Rican Republic earns, unless he had first count on all the safety deposit boxes there.

SOON AFTER it became certain that Cepeda was a "natural" the boss of the Giants upped his pay to $10,000. And for the balance of the year Cepeda was happier than an elephant and promised never to forget the generosity of Horace Stoneham. But, as you know, all elephants are absent minded, and thus we find Cepeda popping off about how much money he wants before he gives his bosses a chance to take inventory on the former freshman infielder.

There was a time, not so long ago, that a baseball owner would work up a slow burn on a fellow like Cepeda and just freeze and let the player worry about his employment.

BUT IN these days with a player shortage, it isn't likely that the Giant bosses will ignore Cepeda's demands. They may, it is true, shave his asking price a bit or they can clobber it badly. But if I know the Giants they will agree to a compromise wage, and tell Cepeda they do not mind paying him 20,000 clackers if he can do as well in 1959 as he did in 1958.

And if they do that, Cepeda has to take the offer in stride. If he doesn't he'd be about the silliest athlete in the league.

Cepeda, like all Puerto Rican players, performs in the league there for about $600 a month. He plays just as hard as he does with the Giants for about one fourth of the dough he gets here.

So I'm just wondering what

the Giant management is going to say when Cepeda, if he does, sends back his contract.

Cepeda, in his first year as a regular first sacker, drove in approximately 100 runs (96 to be exact). Now if you measure the worth of a run batted in against $20,000 a season, that would mean $200 for every run driven in.

AND WHILE I think it is rather high, I believe the Giants would like to see Cepeda drive in 200 runs next season and pay him $200 a run. But can the kid do it?

I think Cepeda really sold himself "short" when he stated the rookie of the year award would entitle him to ask for $20,000 a season. I think if he just let the salary part of his work up to the Giants, they might have been much more liberal than he thought. It is just like the sign on the Greyhound Bus ads . . . "take the bus and leave the driving to us."

Bluth Tops Field In Keg Tourney

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Ray Bluth of St. Louis leads a field of 16 qualifiers into the four-day All-Star Bowling finals starting today.

And with him goes a jinx as old as the tourney, now in its 18th year: No semi-final medalist has ever won the grueling round-robin finals.

Bluth felled a record 7,730 pins in 36 games for an average of better than 214 in the elimination and semi-final rounds. He broke a record of 7,630 held since 1950 by Chuck O'Donnell, his teammate on the St. Louis Budweisers.

BISHOP LICHTENBERGER
Inducted in U. S. capital

New Episcopal
Bishop Urges
Integration

WASHINGTON (P)—The new head of the Protestant Episcopal Church says he hopes for religious unity among all Christians and a fully integrated society for Americans.

The Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, 49, son of a Wisconsin grocer, was inducted as presiding bishop yesterday in a ritual of pageantry and prayer in Washington cathedral.

Bishop Lichtenberger is the 21st clergyman to hold the highest ecclesiastical and administrative office of the church founded in 1789.

Retiring Bishop Henry Knox Sherill inducted Bishop Lichtenberger.

At a news conference Bishop Lichtenberger called desegregation a moral issue but said the country should move "as quickly and quietly as we can into a fully integrated society." In doing this, he added, Americans should recognize "extremely difficult" situations existing in the South.

Ghosts? 39
Panes Break
Mysteriously

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (P)—"I'm so nervous I'm jumping out of my rocking chair at the slightest noise, expecting to hear more glass crash."

That is the reaction of Mrs. Charles Papineau, 80-year-old grandmother, at whose home 39 windows have been broken since a week ago Tuesday.

Police investigated, found no evidence of lawbreaking and withdrew.

John C. Parker, a self-styled authority on poltergeist—noisy ghosts—stepped in.

He said he wanted first to eliminate any possible scientific explanation.

He said he would install a recording thermometer in the bathroom of the 2½-story frame home.

Three windows have been broken in the bathroom. Parker said he wanted to check the possibility that temperature changes might have shattered the windows.

Mrs. Papineau and her 13-year-old grandson, Wayne, have both said they heard strange thumping noises just before windows crashed.

James M. Herrmann of Seaford, N. Y., whose home on Long Island experienced some unexplained bottle-top poppings about a year ago, told the Springfield, Mass., Union:

"The only thing to do is put your faith in God and try to go on. Don't be frightened that the things that are happening may not be explainable. Try as much as possible to control yourself and accept what is happening. Accept it as something being visited upon you."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell R. Arnold of San Rafael, and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William D. Barron of Vancouver, B. C., and Winnipeg, Canada.

The Rev. Harry C. Scholefield officiated for the 8 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Mrs. John Barron, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, wore a champagne lace dress with brown satin bandeau and brown accessories. Her corsage was also of green orchids.

A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony in the church parlors where pink snapdragons and white chrysanthemums were used in arrangements. The bridal table was laid with a cloth of filigree lace and embroidered linen from Hong Kong.

Mrs. Richard Montag, cousin of the bride, of Portland, Ore., was in charge of the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Southern California, the bride wore a blue wool suit with a hat of flowers on pink velvet bandeau and black accessories. She had a white orchid corsage.

Volunteers Assemble Literature For Distribution Heart Sunday

Rain coats and umbrellas were a familiar sight during the recent downpour as groups of volunteers arrived at the Odd Fellows hall in San Rafael for the annual "Heart Stuffing" day.

Over 74,500 pieces of Heart literature, which will be distributed by some 1,900 Marin volunteers during Heart Sunday, Feb. 15, between 2 and 4 p.m., were assembled.

Area chairmen, captains and neighborhood workers will call at some 30,000 homes in Marin County to give residents an opportunity to join the fight against heart disease. Areas not personally solicited will participate through special "mail-in" envelopes.

Assisting in the day-long stuffing get-together were C. W. Iverson, Delbert C. Brown, George Steele, A. F. E. Da Silva, Richard Brown, Cecil Stotts, Gertrude Blake, Agnes Palmer, A. E. Hinrichs, George Bowers, Harold Marple, George Beckley, Harry Wall, Herbert Hickman and Wayne Coen, all of San Rafael.

Other-town volunteers included Mesdames Selwyn H. Varnes and I. N. Tucker of Greenbrae, F. M. Fugate of Corte Madera, E. T. Rodde of Ross, F. W. Macdonald of San Anselmo, E. I. Dourte of Larkspur, Leo Berger of Novato and Emma Reimers of San Francisco.

In planning for the Heart Sunday drive slated for Feb. 15, Mrs. Wayne Coen, Heart Sunday chairman, advised that additional volunteers are needed to aid in the two-hour home canvass between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. Interested volunteers are asked to call the Marin Heart Assn. in San Rafael, Marin Lodge No. 200, 100F, provided the assembling space for heart volunteers' stuffing session. Hot coffee and home-made cake prepared by members of Golden Star Rebekah Lodge No. 112 were served to the volunteers.

NOVATO

Open Door Club Fetes Dr. Ballard

Speaking on "The Best is Yet to Be," Dr. J. Hudson Ballard addressed the Open Door Club of the Novato Presbyterian Church Friday evening in Trevis Hall following the regular monthly covered dish supper.

Dr. Ballard quoted Browning "Grow old along with me, the last of life for which the first was made," and told of 7 procedures that can help the older person enjoy each day.

The four problems of "over 40," the speaker explained, are financial security, emotional security, and physical and mental health.

The procedures to help combat these problems and make life enjoyable are work, friends, recreation, interests (age does not preclude new things); simplification; acceptance (do not rebel against age—if you can't do something, say so. Offer no resistance. This will save strain, tension and unhappiness); and worship (a life of religion will do away with fear. In earlier or middle years build a background of devotion—a life. Learn to say, "I trust. I'll not be afraid of setbacks.")

Dr. Ballard told his audience, "Do not feel, if you set a goal and don't reach it, that you have failed. Rather remember what Browning said, 'What I aspired to be, but was not, comforts me.'"

Dr. Ballard was presented with a volume of Plato's works. Friday evening was called Ballard night at the Open Door Club in appreciation of the fine series of lectures, sponsored by the club, which Dr. Ballard gave in November, and also as a "thank-you" for all he means to the club, the church, and the community.

Mrs. Glen Tovani, with Mrs. Charles Douglas at the piano, sang one of Dr. Ballard's favorite hymns, "Jesus Thou Joy of Loving Hearts," preceding his talk.

Twenty-eight members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Novato Community Methodist Church attended the recent luncheon meeting held at the church.

Mrs. Jack Lewis led the devotions and the Dorcas Circle acted as hostesses.

During the business meeting, a silver spoon was presented to Mrs. Herbert Harmon for her new baby.

With Mrs. Lawrence Doyle as chairman, the program was based on the theme "Missions." The women were divided into three groups and were required to prepare a brief summary on three religions widespread in missionary areas. For the first group, Mrs. O. H. Caspers presented a summary of Islam. Mrs. Larry Ford reported on Buddhism and Mrs. Paul Granlee covered Hinduism.

As a further part of the program, Mrs. John Parks displayed items which had been given to her by missionary friends. They included a silk sari, modeled by Mrs. Granlee, and a native Chinese costume modeled by Mrs. Lewis.

The altar was draped with a batik cloth from Java given Mrs. Parks, made from tree bark.

Mrs. Ray Daugherty displayed items from Japan which included a kimono, dolls, parasol and table cover.

Sketches of a buddha, a shrine and maps of missionary areas were sketched in pastels by Mrs. Paul Morris.

Cypress Lane Apartments Slated For Mindle Property

A proposed Kentfield development to be known as Cypress Lane Apartments would be built on property owned by Harry L. Mindle, proprietor of the College Market in Kentfield, the Independent-Journal learned yesterday.

Something of a mystery developed after a story in Tuesday's I-J reported that Dr. Roy A. Pasqualetti of Kentfield sought county planning commission approval of a master plan for Cypress Lane Apartments.

The story was based on a notice of hearing issued by the commission's staff—a notice which erroneously listed Dr. Pasqualetti as petitioner.

OWNERS OF RECORD

A subsequent check disclosed that Mindle and his wife, Stella, are owners of record of the proposed apartment site. The property, a long, narrow strip between Stetson and Terrace avenues with access from St. Francis Drake boulevard, was conveyed to the Mindles in August, 1957, by Dr. Pasqualetti and his wife, Kathleen, according to a deed recorded by the county.

The planning staff conceded yesterday that the apartment plan is not Dr. Pasqualetti's.

A staff spokesman said the master plan petition refers simply to Cypress Lane Apartments, listing no individual as petitioner.

He said a representative of Hall and Hoffman, San Rafael drafting firm which designed the proposed apartments, told the staff the petitioner wished to remain anonymous.

Before Dr. Pasqualetti disposed of the Kentfield property, the spokesman said, he had it rezoned as a planned residential district and won approval of a master plan for apartment development. That plan, however, never was carried out.

MIXUP EXPLAINED

Inclusion of Dr. Pasqualetti's name on the hearing notice was due to a mixup over his abandoned plan and the latest apartment proposal, the staff spokesman indicated.

As proposed by the anonymous petitioner, apartments on the Mindle property would consist of a row of five separate four-unit, two bedroom structures having two stories above ground-level carports.

Hearings on the master plan have been scheduled by the planning commission for Monday at 2 p.m. and Feb. 2 at the same hour. They will be held in the commission chambers at 1711 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

JURY SKEPTIC AT 'PAINLESS' NECK PINCH

SEATTLE —C. W. Liston stuck his neck out yesterday and held it there while a city bus closed its doors on the neck three times. It was all in the line of duty.

An assistant in the City Claims Department, Liston was trying to prove to an awestruck jury that lined the sidewalk that having a bus door shut on one's neck didn't really hurt at all.

The jury didn't believe him and awarded Mrs. Mirdza Toland, who had testified it hurt her plenty, $9,500.

Sausalitans List Popularity Areas

South America, Portugal, Greece, Finland, Ghana and Italy were the popular areas suggested at a meeting of Sausalito's "People To People" committee Tuesday night, as representatives of 10 community groups met to suggest countries where it would be appropriate for the city to develop contacts for friendship and cultural exchange.

Mrs. M. Justin Herman, committee chairman, announced no definite decision would be made on the specific country pending suggestions from the American Municipal Assn. Mrs. Herman also said a date for the February meeting has not been set.

Boy Named 'Percival Cuthbert' Can Expect Unhappy Childhood

How would you like to be named "Percival Cuthbert"? That's what threatens one poor little guy.

His mother writes, "Our son is a month old and still unnamed. His father and I cannot agree. I insist that we name him Percival Cuthbert, after his father and grandfather. My husband says he'll die before giving that name to another person. He wants something more common, like William or Richard. Are names really so important to boys? What shall I do?"

First let me say that names are very important to boys. They're important to girls, too. The popularity of names varies somewhat from place to place. But there are some names which almost no American children accept. Those who have the wrong names are behind the eight ball.

A boy named Percival Cuthbert probably would have to fight every newcomer. Strangers would tease him. They'd expect him to be a sissy. He'd have to defend his integrity. Or else he's surrender, and be a sissy. You would not want that to happen.

I can understand why you don't want an extremely common name. But there are names which are distinctive, and still accepted. You'll find lists of names in a big dictionary. Can you compromise? You might give your baby three front names. Put the "Percival" and the "Cuthbert" after a less troublesome one. Let him use only the initials P. C. to designate them at school. Even that will cause comment. But it won't be too severe.

In a few years your boy will acquire a nickname. Don't fight it. A nickname is a badge of honor in the world of boyhood. Your son may need it. Good luck to him!

Mr. A. R. "I force my son and daughter to do all their homework before coming in to the living room to watch TV. They say I'm mean. Do you think so?"

Novato Girds For Increase In Fall Pupils

Enrollment in Novato elementary schools is expected to leap next fall from its present 2,474 pupils to 2,736, and at Novato High School from 572 students to 703, Novato Unified School District trustees learned Tuesday night.

Supt. William J. J. Smith said the added students will necessitate hiring five more elementary and five more high school teachers. However, he added, with the completion of Lu Sutton School and the Hill School additions next fall, half-day sessions may be eliminated.

The enrollment figures were based on the estimate of 194 new homes to be built in the district by Jan., 1960, he said. Trustees accepted a low bid of $2,400 by W. R. Ames Co. of Milpitas for construction of library shelves at Novato High School. There were two other bids, the highest being $3,629. The board agreed to two change orders at the high school, to include additional tennis courts and outdoor basketball play area, at a cost of $1,481, and insulation of the administration building's furnace room at a cost of $395.

Club Gives $3,000 To Bay Foundation

More than $3,000 will be given to the Richardson Bay Foundation by the Reed Heights Improvement Club, directors decided during the club's meeting this week in the home of president Robert Samilson.

The total of $3,148.01 for preservation of Richardson Bay was raised by individual member pledges and two association fund-raising events during the year, Samilson said.

Five directors elected at the meeting are Harold F. Green, Richard W. Hammond, Frank W. Holsinger, Mrs. Arnold R. Bowhay and John Runnels.

It was recommended by the membership that Dick de Berry remain as the association's representative on the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council.

HELD IN NARCOTICS RAID —

George W. Yee, left, of San Francisco, was arrested yesterday as a suspect in "the biggest Chinese narcotics operation that we've ever come across," said George H. White, San Francisco chief of the Federal Narcotics Bureau. Yee, clothing store operator and former president of the Hip Sing tong, was one of three persons arrested (the other two in Portland, Ore.), as members of a syndicate that smuggled 100 million dollars of heroin in to the United States. Also in photo is Police Inspector John Kerigan. (AP Wirephoto)

Ring Cracked; Drug Topped Gold In Value

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Federal agents have cracked down on a huge narcotics syndicate accused of dealing in a commodity nearly 1,000 times more precious than gold—heroin.

Col. George White, federal narcotics here, said the roots of the multi-million-dollar syndicate were in Communist China but the branches extended into the West Coast of the United States and Canada.

A federal grand jury indicted three men yesterday on charges of concealment, sale and transportation of narcotics. They were Fred Moe, alias Moe Yim, about 42, of Portland, Ore.; Lee Dean, about 38, of Portland; and George W. Yee, 53, prominent San Francisco Chinatown merchant.

White said the heroin came from the vast poppy fields near Chungking, deep in Communist China.

White said it was smuggled through Singapore, Tokyo and Hong Kong in a conspiracy headed outside Red China by Won Mon, a high-living mystery man in Hong Kong.

Syndicate records indicated it distributed at least 270 pounds of heroin along the west coast in the past eight years. Agents said this was worth nearly two million dollars wholesale—and nearly 100 million dollars by the time it was "cut" or adulterated for retail sale.

The same amount of gold—270 pounds—would be worth $113,400.

Navy Pilot Pulls Wrong Lever—And Out He Goes

MOFFETT FIELD (UPI)—Lt. Cmdr. Ralph Fielding of Santa Clara pulled the wrong lever in a jet trainer yesterday—and it nearly cost him his life.

Fielding was on a routine flight in the trainer with Lt. John McDaniel, 30, of Mountain View.

As the jet approached the field for a landing only 150 feet off the ground, Fielding pulled the ejection lever and crashed through the plane's plastic canopy.

His parachute opened in seconds, and Fielding dropped safely to the ground. He suffered a fractured ankle and a bloody nose.

McDaniel brought the plane in for a normal landing.

Sun Heavily Spotted

PASADENA (UPI)—The sun has the worst rash of black spots on its face since 1951.

Mt. Wilson Observatory has photographed the spots—huge magnetic storms on the sun's surface. These storms emit radiation which often upsets radio and telephone communications on earth.

The spots photographed last Friday extended 100,000 miles across the sun's face. In 1951 a 125,000-mile cluster was observed. The largest on record, extending 152,000 miles, was observed in 1947.

Stripper Gets 15 Years

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Lawyers for baby-faced, shapely Candy Barr—blonde stripper convicted on a narcotics charge—will ask an appeals court to reconsider her case.

The State Court of Criminal Appeals yesterday voted 2-1 to uphold her 15-year sentence. Convicted of marijuana possession, the young blonde is free on $15,000 bail.

Candy, whose real name is Juanita Dale Phillips, is reported to be appearing in a New Orleans, La., nightclub. Her attorneys told the court Candy was holding the marijuana for a friend.

In this case the patient was a 5-year-old trotting horse named H-Bomb.

The hospital agreed to X-ray the horse because no veterinarians in the area had X-ray equipment.

Trainers had been treating the horse for a calcium deposit built up on the front leg but they could not determine the effectiveness of the treatment without X-rays.

The value of the estate was figured by Richard Williams, head of the State Inheritance Tax Division, who based the figure on inheritance tax receipts filed by the senator's widow.

Infant Dies In Fire

DETROIT (UPI)—Two-month-old Julius Cash of Detroit was burned fatally last night in a fire started by a candle used because the electricity had been cut off for nonpayment of bills, police said.

Firemen rescued his two young sisters unharmed. Their mother, Mary Cash, 20, had gone shopping.

Adams Wasn't Alone

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Presidential assistant Sherman Adams wasn't the first Republican in the White House to get a free overcoat. Abe Lincoln was.

A Boston textile manufacturer gave it to him on the eve of the Civil War.

Erwin Feldman, a New York labor lawyer and amateur Lincoln scholar, disclosed today he has found an unpublished "thank you" note written by Lincoln for the coat. The letter was written from Lincoln's home in Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22, 1861 following his election as President.

So far Congressional investigators have given no indication that they plan to look into the matter.

Adams resigned last fall after congressional investigators disclosed his relationship with gift-giving Boston textile tycoon Bernard Goldfine. Among other items, Goldfine gave Adams a vicuna overcoat.

Sack Causes Trouble

SAC PAOLO, Brazil (UPI)—The low cut sack dress is definitely out for shapely Brazilian actress Norma Benguelle. She was mobbed yesterday by a group of teen-aged hoodlums and stripped naked in the street.

The teen-agers followed her along the street commenting on her figure and on the sack dress. Suddenly one youth snatched at the dress and others followed suit. In a matter of seconds she stood nude and screaming in protest.

Miss Benguelle fled to the safety of a clothing store.

33,000 Homes Dark

RIDGEFIELD, N. J. (UPI)—A major power switching station failed here last night, leaving 33,000 homes and factories in 10 east Bergen County communities without electricity for about an hour.

A spokesman for the Public Service Electric & Gas Co. said a mechanical failure in the control system at the Bergen switching station caused the blackout.

Dad Finds Son's Killer

KORIYAMA, Japan (UPI)—Six years ago Shiroji Arita was informed by police that his son had drowned accidentally in the Abukuma River.

Arita, a contractor, suspected his son was murdered and started a search for the killer.

Yesterday he turned the confessed killer over to police. Arita obtained a tape recorded confession from a laborer that he had slain the son and dumped his body in the river.

'Get Mail Yourself'

SAN PEDRO (UPI)—Postmaster Lowell Chapman said today mail deliveries have been temporarily stopped to at least five households in the 2500 block of Graysby avenue because carriers have been bitten five times by dogs in the past 90 days.

The dog owners will have to pick up their own mail from general delivery until they can give assurance their dogs are properly tied, Chapman said.

MOLASSES FLOOD

Tragic Blast In Boston Years Ago Recalled

BOSTON, Mass. (UPI)—It was Wednesday, Jan. 15, 1919. Clocks ticked off the noon hour in Boston's busy North End.

The temperature hovered at the freezing mark. There was a hint of snow in the air.

The everyday bustle of activity echoed along Commercial street, the North End's cluttered avenue of trucks, autos, bicycles and peddlers' wagons.

A group of children romped beneath a huge tank—58 feet high, 98 feet wide—that towered over the Purity Distilling Co. It contained almost 2½ million gallons of molasses.

A guard shooed the youngsters away.

A train clacked by on the overhead tracks of the Boston Elevated Railway, bound for Charlestown. The conductor waved down to firemen at Engine House 31.

The clocks' hands moved on toward 12:30.

Mothers beckoned children to lunch. One, Mary DiStasio, 11, ran back to take another look at the awesome molasses tank.

A city laborer, Michael Sennott, sat down to lunch with five companions in the nearby Public Works yard. He munched on a ham sandwich.

It was 12:31.

A moment later, with only a muffled rumble as a warning, the great molasses tank erupted.

MOLASSES FLOOD

A tidal wave of sticky, black liquid spewed over two city blocks with such force it hurled trucks against buildings and crumpled houses.

Husky teamsters, attempting to flee the fluid fury, slipped, rose, slipped again, and were engulfed.

The fire house collapsed, trapping two firemen for two hours.

At one point the molasses ran 15 feet deep.

At 3 p.m. the toll could be determined.

Suit Requests 3-Way Split Of Property

A partnership which owns about 4,000 acres of dairyland along Tomales Bay and the former Roberts Dairy plant in San Rafael is on the verge of breaking up.

Sayles A. Turney, one of the partners, has filed a suit in Marin Superior Court asking for a three-way split of the property. Turney, represented by attorney Lawrence A. Cowen, names James E. Lundgren and Mrs. Niles C. Lundgren as the principal partners.

The land, on the west shores of Tomales Bay, includes the 690-acre Jewel Ranch, the 1,300-acre K Ranch, and 2,000-acre New Albion Ranch. The old Roberts plant, no longer operating, is located on Mary street in San Rafael.

Turney asks the court to appoint referees or a referee to work out an equitable partition of the vast holding, estimated to be worth more than a half million dollars.

Airman Rewarded For Overseas Job

A1/c Victor Mudryk of the 35th Communications Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base is possessor of the Air Force commendation ribbon for "tireless devotion to duty" in a position normally filled by a technical sergeant.

The award was presented to Airman Mudryk last week by Maj. Gen. Sory Smith, 4th Air Force commander, for Mudryk's work in establishing a warehouse at Dhahran Airfield in Saudi Arabia during his service there from November, 1957 through March, 1958.

Mudryk was born on a farm in Poland, near the Ukrainian border. He came to the United States in 1950 and enlisted in the Air Force the following year. He works in the 35th Communications warehouse at Hamilton.

Officers To Talk

Mrs. R. C. St. John and Mrs. Marvin Good, president and secretary, respectively, of the Marin Assn. for Retarded Children, will speak to the Marin County Hi-H Club at 8 p.m. Saturday in Manor School, Fairfax. The club's 1959 special project will be planning events for retarded children.

Little Mary DiStasio's body was found beneath four feet of molasses. The Public Works yard was a blanket of molasses. Sennott and his companions were dead.

In all, 21 persons perished, 40 were injured and the damage ran to millions.

The next day an investigation began. It ended officially six years later.

Lawyers for 25 plaintiffs charged the company had constructed a faulty tank, while the company claimed it was the victim of anarchists, that a bomb had been placed in the vat. They produced professors from Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology who testified the tanks was sound.

PUBLIC BLAMED

But Municipal Court Chief Justice Wilfred Bolster blamed the public for the disaster. In his inquest report he said:

"There was no supervision of the construction of this gigantic steel tank. The plans went through the building department and persons passing on them were incompetent to determine structural steel construction."

"As long as the public keeps one eye on the tax rate and provides itself with an administrative department only 50 per cent qualified, it has no right to complain if it does not get 100 per cent protection and production."

On April 28, 1925, after a 10-month trial during which 3,000 witnesses were heard, the plaintiffs agreed to settle the case for $1,024,000.

Federal Over-Reliance Risky, Farm Aide Says

Tomales sheep rancher Roy Parks was re-elected president of the Marin County Farm Bureau yesterday at the annual meeting in Nicasio.

Also re-elected were Donald McIsaac of Tocaloma, vice president, and Capt. Charles Clarkson of Novato, treasurer. Robert Dolcini of Nicasio and George Perry of Novato were elected directors.

About 65 Marin farmers and ranchers who gathered in Rancho Nicasio for the meeting heard Roy McLain, first vice president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, warn against over-reliance on the federal government.

"Federal price supports," he contended, "on wheat alone, have led to a daily expense of $700,000 just for storage . . . Those commodities which are free of price supports are in the best shape today."

The most successful crops, he said, include livestock, soy beans and dairying—none of which are subsidized.

In California, McLean said, the population some day will be as high as 40 million. When that day comes, he cautioned, the farmers are likely to find themselves faced with a situation similar to that in The Netherlands today, where a license is required to operate a farm.

McLain showed films of farming condition taken during a recent tour of European countries.

"In Italy," he said, "the government has taken land away from large farmers and established a resettlement program under which farmers are brought in to cultivate small farms." The landowners have been paid for the confiscated lands on the basis of existing assessed valuation, he said.

"It's time each and everyone of us ask 'how far on the same road has America already gone?'"

Program Of Homestead Club Runs From Taxes To Movies

A program ranging from movies to tax rates is scheduled for the Homestead Valley Improvement Club's annual meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley.

The club will elect officers, hear a review of the Tamalpais Union High School tax rate increase election issues, receive a charter for the Boy Scout troop it sponsors and see a movie entitled, "How To Grow Beautiful Fuchsias and Begonias."

Four officers and eight directors will be elected. The nominating committee headed by Robert Greensfelder will present the following slate:

For president, Bernard Tomberlaine; vice president, Herb Korner; secretary, Anne Trevorton; building superintendent, Charles Mott; directors—Mrs. Edwin A. Mamura, Gus Wolf, Chris Bratt, Virginia Spaulding, Lloyd Burris, Jo Mary Hicks, and Mel Henriod.

Nominations from the floor will be in order for all positions as well as for the remaining director job.

Two members of the Tamalpais High School District rate increase committee will briefly review the issues of the coming election and answer questions from the floor.

Homestead Valley Boy Scout Troop 54 will open the meeting with a flag ceremony, followed by the presentation of the Scout charter to the club.

A new garden movie produced by the California Spray

Chemical Corp. will be shown. The movie deals with the step-by-step process for raising fuchsias and begonias.

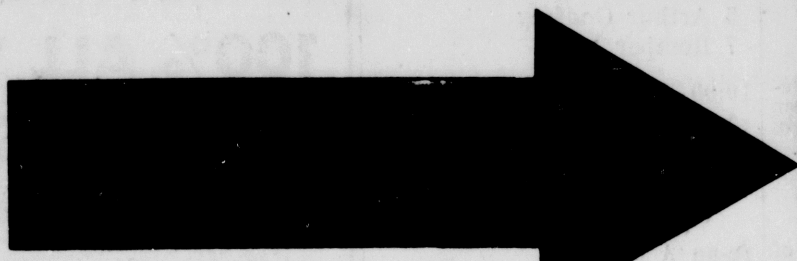

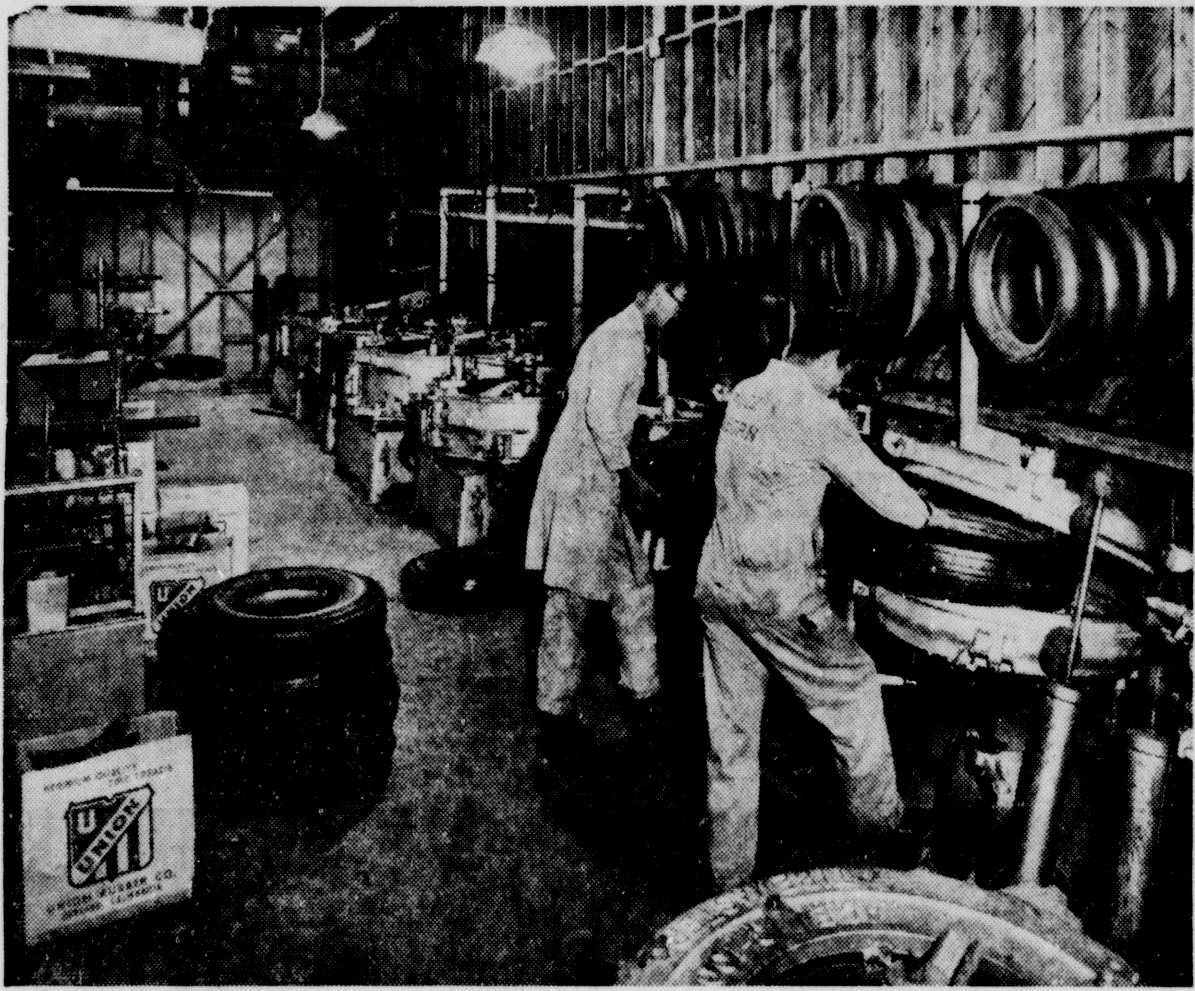

Ambulance Operator Reported Recovering

Turrini was stricken at his home and entered the hospital on Jan. 2.

Kilborn says: properly purchased recapping today offers one of the few real genuine savings available today.

KILBORN SAYS: BUYING DIRECT FROM OUR FACTORY MEANS terrific customer protection and savings. We have an interest in our product from time of purchase until each of our recap units is completely run out satisfactorily.

If any type product trouble occurs, the customer is immediately and fairly taken care of.

We at Kilborn's believe a reliable, reputable recapper should make one type of recap and that it should be the best that can be made with highly skilled craftsmanship and the finest in tire building machinery and materials and that is what we at Kilborn's do. We say "beware the economy recap" for the reason that an economy cap is really a polite name for an inferior product. It is made with third grade materials. This means third grade casings capped with third grade rubber. We at Kilborn's feel a third line recap is against all safety principles. Therefore, we will not make anything but first line recaps.

Kilborn's beautiful new recaps are made from all new equipment for properly processing new 14 inch and 15 inch tires. Features of the new recap are a new flatter, wider tread, a deeper tread depth, a new power tread with 6,000 gripping edges for greater traction, faster stopping and smoother, quieter running, also premium rubber and a 20,000 mile guarantee.

Skidproof Your Car With Kilborn Recaps for Winter Driving

The ideal time to have your tires replaced or recapped is in the winter when the roads are cool and damp. Then wear is minimized and protection against skidding and other hazards maximized. Because of these conditions, tires replaced in the winter actually give you the longest service.
